

THE FERRIS TRIAL RESUMED TODAY

Witnesses Say Mr. and Mrs. Shaw Bought and Paid for Railroad Tickets

Ticket Agent Miller Among Those Called to Testify Today--Local Ticket Brokers Also Heard at Today's Session

The trial of George A. Ferris, a former officer at the Lowell jail, who has been indicted on the charge of perjury by a grand jury of Middlesex county, which opened before Judge Chase in the second session of the criminal court of Suffolk county, at the court house in Pemberton square, Boston, Monday, was resumed at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The greater part of the morning session was taken up by counsel questioning witnesses relative to the manner of loaning railroad tickets, through brokers. Among the witnesses heard were Miss Alice M. Faneuf, who was on the stand at the time of the adjournment of court yesterday afternoon, Thomas H. Kelley, Henry W. O'Brien, Olaf Atkinson, an officer at the Lowell jail, and Charles K. Miller, ticket agent at the railroad station in Lowell.

Jury Missing

When court opened at 9:30 o'clock it was found that one of the jurors was missing, but he put in an appearance several minutes later and no questions were asked him by the court.

Miss Alice M. Faneuf, who was on the stand yesterday, was the first witness called. After she had answered a question asked by the district attorney she was turned over to Mr. Hurbert, who put her through a rigid cross-examination, but she proved to be an able witness and did not differ to any extent between her direct and cross-examination.

Miss Faneuf, on cross-examination, reiterated that although she went to school with one of the Shaw girls she was never intimate with any of the daughters.

At this point counsel for the defense queried the witness relative to her father's business, intimating that he was a bail commissioner, but later corrected himself and referred to one of her relatives who was a bail commissioner and also loaned money.

Mr. Cummings' motion, as we recall it, was that the council proceed to the election of a principal assessor.

The witness testified that frequently on an average of once a week, Mr. Shaw called at Mr. Kelley's office, where she was employed for several years, and she loaned him trip books. When he returned the books he paid for them.

In answer to a question put by Mr. Hurbert, the witness said that trip books were purchased by Mr. Kelley for $20.25 and that there was a profit of $4.55 on each book. She testified relative to the manner in which she kept her accounts while in Mr. Kelley's employ.

Miss Faneuf was asked if she had any conversation with any person relative to the trial. She said she did not know that she was to be a witness in the case until last Saturday afternoon when District Attorney Higgins called at her house.

Thomas H. Kelley, auctioneer and real estate dealer, with an office in Paige street, was the next witness called. He testified that for a number of years he conducted a store at 332 Middlesex street where he loaned railroad tickets and dealt in general merchandise.

Mr. Kelley said that Mr. Shaw had purchased small parts of a trip book—say 11 rides—at different times; he also hired books and returned the books and always paid when the book was returned, but at times Mr. Shaw paid in advance. Questioned as to how Mr. Shaw paid, the witness said: "He paid me in money."

Mr. Kelley said that when he was selling tickets he kept a duplicate ticket which showed the number of tickets in the book and when the book was returned he could tell by comparison how many tickets were used.

Witness was queried relative to his business as a ticket broker and he said that he inaugurated the business of loaning or hiring railroad tickets in Lowell.

He testified that he had loaned tickets to Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and one of the daughters.

On cross-examination Mr. Kelley said that he had billed a number of people out of jail and as a general rule he received compensation, but in many instances he received no fee.

Mr. Kelley testified that he had read an account of the trial (the Jackson Palmer case) but did not know that he was to be a witness in the present case until the district attorney notified him last Saturday in Lowell.

Henry W. O'Brien, who conducts a ticket office and newsstand in the Richardson hotel, was the next witness called. Witness explained the manner in which he transacted business relative to the loaning of trip books, and produced trip books and duplicates.

Witness said that Mr. Shaw never loaned a book to Boston & Lowell trip book from him, but that Mrs. Shaw and her three daughters had called for books.

BUILDING TORN DOWN BY POLISH PEOPLE

Quick Work Done on Condemned Structure

People may talk about contractors, carpenters and other working crafts, but when it comes to tearing down a building, leave that to the members of the Polish community. This was demonstrated in good style last night when the building recently condemned by the inspector of buildings, at 37 Howe street, and owned by the heirs of Louis T. Montferand, was torn down and the debris taken away in less than four hours. The feat was witnessed by several hundred people whose attention was attracted by the noise of the work and also by the men, women and children carrying away large pieces of timber.

The work was started about 5 o'clock and at 9 the building had disappeared, and had been carried off for firewood. That feat actually beat the work of the Howes Construction company on the old Sun building.

LIVELY BLAZE

BROKE OUT IN THE HOUSE OF
C. G. COBURN

But for the prompt arrival of the members of the fire department, a fire which started in the cellar of C. G. Coburn, 735 Varnum avenue, early this morning, would probably have caused serious damage. In some mysterious way an incubator containing about 1,000 eggs, in the cellar of Mr. Coburn, caught fire. At 2:55 o'clock a telephone alarm was sent in and the firemen made a quick response. At 3:02 o'clock an alarm from box 73 was rung in and when the members of the department arrived on the scene the flames had made their way to the first floor. The firefighters got right down to business and in a short time had the fire under control, but not before the 1000 eggs were destroyed. The building itself suffered slight damage.

RICHESON'S FIRST NIGHT IN THE DEATH CHAMBER IN STATE PRISON

Condemned Man Tossed and Turned on His Cell Cot—He is Within a Few Paces of the Death Chair

BOSTON, May 15.—The presence of Clarence Richeson in the death house at the Charlestown state prison and the coming execution of two other prisoners within the next two weeks led Warden Bridges today to order a suspension of all visiting privileges in the prison for the next three weeks. Richeson's removal to the prison from the Charles street jail yesterday was followed almost immediately by the appearance of many persons who expressed a desire to be taken over the prison walls. Not a few, apparently, had the mistaken idea that by such inspection they would have an opportunity of seeing the prisoner now in the public eye. The law expressly stipulates, however, who may see a prisoner under sentence of death awaiting his execution. Such are the prison officials, a minister selected by the prisoner and the warden and members of the family of the condemned. Among the officials are included the prison chaplain and the prison physician.

When Richeson entered the house of death at Charlestown yesterday he found an interior as immaculate as the home of the neatest of housekeepers after a spring cleaning. Within the past two weeks the entire building has been repaired. A new roof and new floors were among the renovations while the whole interior was newly painted in white.

Richeson passed his first night in the death chamber uneasily last night. During his stay in the Charles street jail he had the companionship of Harry Batts, a colored prisoner to whom as a southerner used to such service he became quite attached and on whom he was more or less dependent.

The prisoner undoubtedly missed his prison friend and was more or less affected by the constant vigilance of the two guards who watched him unceasingly through the night. This night was passed in tossing and turning on his cell cot. But a dozen paces away was the death chair where some time during next week possibly even as early as Monday morning he would have to meet death in execution of his crime of the murder of pretty little Avis Linnell of Hyannis, his betrayed sweetheart.

The prisoner's breakfast was brought him from the prison hospital cook room. It included the customary glass of hot milk of which Richeson is fond, followed by coffee. Other food for which he expressed a preference was also supplied, but the man ate but lightly. Early in the morning the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, pastor of the Warren avenue Baptist church, called upon Richeson. The latter late yesterday informed the warden he would prefer to have Mr. Johnson visit him. Rev. Mr. Johnson was asked last night if he cared to act as the prisoner's spiritual adviser and he replied he would prefer to wait until he could see Richeson today before deciding the matter. During Richeson's stay at the jail he visited him often. The clergyman has expressed himself very strongly on the case, however, declaring that he believed in capital punishment and if Richeson was found to be sane he should be

No Report From Alonists

Gov. Foss had not received the reports of Drs. Steadman, George Tuttle and Henry Frost, alienists appointed by him to examine Richeson, up to 10 a. m. At that time the governor had received no intimation whatsoever of the nature of their findings, according to his private secretary, Dudley Holman.

Mr. Holman said that the governor did not know this forenoon whether the petition of Richeson's counsel for a commutation of the death sentence would be referred to the executive council at the weekly session this afternoon. Lieut. Gov. Luce, chairman of the pardon committee of the council, which would have to pass on the petition if it were laid before the council, is in Maine within ten hours' ride of the city. At the state house it was said that his absence did not necessarily mean that the petition would not be submitted to the council. The executive council under the law took up the work of considering the vote cast throughout the state in the presidential primaries of April 30th and will be in session again tomorrow scrutinizing the returns. If this work is not completed tomorrow the council will meet again Friday. The governor can lay the Richeson petition before his advisers at any time and is empowered to summon a special session if necessary. As the former minister would not be taken to the electric chair before Tuesday of next week the council could be called together on Monday if necessary.

The state house officials did not expect the pardon committee of the council would be able to arrange a hearing for today as District Attorney Peabody and counsel for Richeson would have to be notified and other preliminaries arranged. Governor Luce deplores the formation of hasty conclusions by the press in regard to the probable termination of the case. It is stated. Secretary Holman said that nothing had yet been done which would justify the statement that all hope for the condemned man had disappeared or that the executive council would be asked to grant a commutation. He said that the governor would act as the law required.

Visited By Minister
Rev. Mr. Johnson remained with Richeson for about 20 minutes this morning. Attorney Morse also called and stayed about half an hour. Among the others who talked with the condemned man were Warden Bridges,

HOGAN'S ELECTION IS QUESTIONED

Four Principal Assessors Were on Duty at City Hall This Morning

C. Arthur Abbott Claims That He Still Holds Office--He Says That the Municipal Council Acted Illegally

Four assessors of taxes reported for duty at city hall this morning and that is sufficiently unusual as to be mentioned as a matter of news. And a little story, too, goes with the appearance of the four assessors.

A few days ago the municipal council elected Daniel E. Hogan assessor of taxes and it was supposed that he was elected to succeed C. Arthur Abbott but now there seems to be some question about it.

Mr. Hogan qualified for and took office on Monday. Mr. Abbott reported for duty this morning and told his brother assessors and the secretary of the board that he was ready to perform the duties of the office. Mr. Abbott, it was stated, was not at the hall yesterday.

Mr. Abbott and his friends claim that the motion responsible for the election of Mr. Hogan, did not mention

Mr. Abbott's name, and that Mr. Hogan might have been elected to succeed either one of the other two assessors, Mr. Blazon or Mr. O'Sullivan.

The motion as taken by the reporters did not include the name of Mr. Abbott, and Mr. Cummings, the maker of the motion, says he did not mention Mr. Abbott's name for he believed it was well understood that the election would be for the successor of Mr. Abbott. Mr. Brown, who seconded the motion, says Mr. Abbott's name was not mentioned, but he supposed, too, it would be well understood that the man to be elected would succeed Mr. Abbott. The contention is that under the new charter an official holds office until his successor is appointed or elected and the question is raised as to the assessor Mr. Hogan was elected to succeed. It was stated this afternoon that the city solicitor would be asked for an opinion in the matter.

THE DEFENDANT WON Verdicts Reported in the Superior Court Today

The jury in the cases of Edmund K. Cheney vs. Curtis McEwan and that of Edmund J. Cheney, his father, versus the same, that were called in the civil session of the superior court yesterday, returned verdicts for the defendant in each case this morning. The jury came in at 10 o'clock. The cases were brought as a result of an alleged automobile accident, in which young Cheney was injured.

The case of Adeline R. Comstock, executrix, vs. William E. Livingston, was then called. The case is an action of contract and the ad damnum is $10,000. The plaintiff claims that she is the executrix of the will of Hannah Elizabeth Livingston, deceased testator and she alleges that the defendant made a promissory note for the sum of $10,000, payable to the order of the testatrix, Hannah E. Livingston, and the plaintiff is the owner and holder thereof as executrix aforesaid of the amount of the note and interest. The plaintiff says that interest has been paid to Oct. 2, 1904.

The case is one of great interest inasmuch as several of those implicated are now dead. There are a number of witnesses in the case and the morning session was taken up by the examination of several of the witnesses. Trull & Wier are the attorneys for the defendant and William E. Bent for the plaintiff.

MARTIN MACK WAS INJURED IN AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT TODAY

Mr. Martin Mack, the pioneer lunch wagon man of Lowell, was hurt in an automobile accident on the boulevard near the pumping station this morning. The cause of the accident is said to be due to the displacement of a tire which caused the automobile to turn turtle. Mr. Mack was bruised about the legs and chest but it is not believed that he sustained internal injuries. He is at his home in Lenton court.

EXPERT DIVERS TO SEARCH FOR BODY OF LEVIS PERREAULT

The body of the unfortunate Levis Perreault, who was drowned at Long pond last Sunday still lies at the bottom of the pond despite the efforts of Undertakers J. P. O'Donnell & Sons to find it. The undertakers and their men have been at work dragging the pond since Sunday, working day and night, but yesterday they dynamited the pond but with no success. Today several expert swimmers will dive for the body and it is expected it will be found before night.

ASCENSION DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES TOMORROW

Tomorrow, the 10th day after Easter, is the festival of Ascension day in the church calendar, and as such is a holy day of obligation in the Catholic church, where the services are similar to those prescribed for Sundays throughout the year.

This holy day has considerable significance for Catholics throughout the world, and especially to the ordained clergyman, for it is the anniversary of the day when Christ commissioned His apostles to go forth and preach the gospel to every creature.

At Annual Meeting of the Lowell General Hospital Trustees

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Lowell General hospital was held at the Union National bank yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, President Jacob Rogers in the chair.

The meeting was of unusual importance to the hospital, because of the election of a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. A. St. John Chamberlain. As a previous meeting a committee was appointed to report a nomination for said vacancy. Mr. Larkin T. Trull reported for said committee and presented the name of Mr. Percy Parker. The report of the committee was received with great favor, and Mr. Parker was unanimously elected.

All committees rendered their annual reports and the same were ordered placed on file.

Executive and House Committee

The report of the executive and house committee was, in part, as follows:

Patients admitted, 1270; daily average, 50; births, 116; deaths, 35; operations, 632.

The training school for nurses, now requiring three full years of theory and practice, is in a highly prosperous condition. We are sometimes inclined to place a somewhat restricted interpretation upon the work of these nurses. To be sure, their work at the hospital is necessary to the proper care of the patients, and it would be quite impossible to conduct a hospital without their aid. But it must be kept in mind that this training received at the hospital is only a part of a college life into which these young women have entered for serious study. We sometimes forget that our nurses attend regular lectures and recitations and have complete courses of hard study all carefully laid out for them by the faculty of most competent teachers. Many of these nurses after graduation remain right here in our city, where they are to contribute, to no small degree, to the comforts and recovery of the sick. Therefore, we feel that any city is to be congratulated that has such a modern and progressive school in its midst as our own training school for nurses.

About one half of all the work of the hospital is of a charitable nature. The hospital never receives the slightest aid from the city. All obligations of every kind must be paid from revenues derived from two sources: From patients and from the income of invested funds. The "high cost of living" applies to hospitals as well as private homes, and so it is true that our expenses have increased in much greater ratio than our income. We must have a more generous endowment if the charitable work of the hospital is to be continued at all the high standard of all the departments be maintained. We again ask all friends of the hospital to thoroughly and seriously consider this charitable institution when arranging for the final disposition of their estates. All gifts and bequests are carefully and safely invested, and only the income from the same is used. Indeed, it has been voted that "any gift of $50 or over must be added to the endowment fund, unless otherwise specified by the donor."

The nine thousand dollars given two years ago by Mr. Frederick Fanning Ayer, of New York City, was expended in rearranging and painting the nurses' home and in the addition of twelve rooms, with furnishings; in erecting a shelter for the doctors' horses and automobiles; and in moving and enlarging the barn and building an addition to the same; in preparing and furnishing detention rooms; in repainting and painting the third floor of the Fellows building; and in furnishing new bath-rooms. This work was completed only last fall.

The recent gift from Mr. Ayer of $2000 will enable the trustees to paint all the buildings, outside and in, with the exception of those painted last year. Also to build a wall from the further entrance of the grounds, up the hill to the Fellows building. Also a waiting room or shelter at this entrance of the grounds. This gift also makes it possible to procure the very latest X-ray machine. Mr. Ayer gave us one of those machines only a few years ago, but modern improvements have made this new machine necessary. If the hospital is to be provided with the most modern methods of treating disease.

The tuberculosis camp had a very successful season last year, and everything points to an equally successful time for the present year. The camp will open just as soon as we have one or two days of warm sunshine. The expenses of the camp, calling for $5000 a year, are met by an annual gift from Mr. F. F. Ayer.

FUNERALS

BUCKLEY—The funeral of Edmund Buckley, who died in Worcester, took place yesterday afternoon from the Baptist church in North Billerica. Rev. C. L. Williams officiated and the bearers were John Stolt, James W. Wither, Samuel Lord and John Powell. Burial was in the North cemetery, in charge of Undertaker C. M. Young.

O'DEA—All that was mortal of the late Lawrence O'Dea was tenderly consigned to the final resting place in the Catholic cemetery this morning. The lengthy cortege left the house of mourning, No. 68 Church street, at 8:30 o'clock and wended its way to St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. W. George Mullin. The choir under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Gertrude E. Keleher and Mr. Donnelly. As the casket was being borne from the church "In Paradisum" was sung by the choir. Mrs. John W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. William Lord, Peter Callery, James O'Dea, Thomas O'Dea, Thomas Dunlavy and Patrick O'Dea. Among the many beautiful floral tributes, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held, were: A pillow of roses and pinks with the inscription "Husband and Father," from the bereaved family; large wreath of pinks and roses from Mr. and Mrs. John P. Quinn and family; wreath of roses, sympathy of Miss Sarah V. Feeney; wreath of asters from Miss Anna M. Feeney; wreath of roses and pinks, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Gardner and family; large basket of pinks and tulips, sympathy of Miss E. F. Morrison and niece Katherine and Helen Donovan; large wreath of asters, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. John Flavel; spray of pinks from Mr. Walter Sandborn; large spray of lilies, sympathy of Mr. Thomas E. O'Day; large wreath of roses on base from Lowell Auto company; wreath of roses and pinks, sympathy of Post Office employees; large standing cross on base, from Lowell Chauffeurs' Federation; spray of pinks from teachers and classmates of the Colburn grammar school; wreath of galax leaves and roses, sympathy of Mr. William Collins; spray of wheat, sympathy of Mr. James O'Day; large sheaf of wheat with pinks, sympathy of Mr. Peter Flood; large wreath of carnations and tulips, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore; large wreath of pinks and roses, from Mr. John McNamara; spray of roses, sympathy of Mr. John Moore; spray of pinks, from the Misses Mary and Gertrude Butler; spray, sympathy of the Dravin family; spray of pinks, from Mr. and Mrs. Porter; spray of lilies from Miss Albina Bourgault; spray of pinks, Miss Helen Webster, also many other wreaths and sprays from other friends.

The funeral was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends including many from out of town.

The interment took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the last sad rites of the Catholic church were recited by Rev. W. George Mullin. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker James H. McDermott.

VESEY—With impressive services held at the Immaculate Conception church this morning the remains of Mr. Patrick J. Vesey were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery. The obsequies were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends of deceased, who was widely known. On all sides were apparent the sorrow for the deceased and sympathy for the bereaved family.

This was visible in the large cortege that left the house, 555 East Merrimack street, at 8:30 o'clock. A high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Lawrence Tietze, O. M. I. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Walker rendered the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Mr. Edward Shea and Mr. Charles P. Smith. The bearers were: Michael McNamara, P. J. Burns, Edward Cahill, John Flanagan, James O'Dea and Jeremiah Coughlin. Present at the funeral were the following delegations: Messrs. James E. Gorman, Michael J. Sullivan popular young ladies of St. Peter's parish and the manner in which the ladies conducted the affair was very praiseworthy. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Streamers of pink and green were alternately suspended from the centre of the hall to the corners. The stage was decked with potted plants and ferns, the latter completely hiding the members of Miner's orchestra. The first part of the program was given over to a concert by the orchestra, which started shortly after eight o'clock and continued until 8:30. The first waltz was then started and a large number participated, demonstrating the wide popularity of the young ladies.

ROSEMAIDS HELD DANCING PARTY

Pretty Affair Was Conducted in O. U. A. M. Hall

Dancing was continued till 10:45 o'clock when intermission was held and refreshments served. After the tea dancing was resumed and the real fun started. Several feature numbers were introduced. The "assembly" was one of the most enjoyable, and not only to the participants but the spectators as well. In this number at intervals, the orchestra leader announced "change partners." After a little shuffle all were dancing with different people. The number was greatly enjoyed and was encored several times. A "Ladies' choice" in which the fair sex did the asking, was another feature. The "Moonlight Waltz" proved a banner number. While this dance was in progress the lights were turned low and the different colored incandescents, produced a very striking effect.

The other numbers on the order were also greatly enjoyed. The floor was in excellent shape; the music by Miner's orchestra was irresistible and those present were in the mood to enjoy every minute of the entire evening, and this they did, most successfully. The souvenir dance order, was of a very beautiful design. On the cover, which was of white, was the inscription in gold letters "Rosemaids." Everything in connection with the party was conducted on an elaborate scale and at the close of the affair at midnight all congratulated the two young for the superior court. John J. Molloy, who admitted his guilt to the complaint charging him with drunkenness, was sentenced to six months to the common jail. Dennis Curtin was given 30 days for the same offense, while James O'Hearn, David Hudson and Nellie Kelley, all second offenders were fined $5 each. Three first offenders were fined $2 each. The case of Christa Prassa who was arrested a few days ago at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets for alleged intimidation, was again continued till tomorrow. Prassa who is one of the strikers at the Merrimack mill, was arrested on a warrant charging him with intimidation. It is alleged that one night last week, he did house to house knocking and one of his countrymen who feared bodily harm swore out a warrant for his arrest. Prassa was arrested at the corner of Merrimack and Anne streets, and his arrest almost caused a riot, for the other members of the picket line made a rush for the officers and their prisoner. The day previous to his arrest Prassa was arraigned in court and fined for assault and battery on two counts. He paid his fine and immediately returned to the picket line.

The police court session was rather brief this morning compared with yesterday's session. Judge Pickman occupied the bench and he disposed of the few cases in short time. Napoleon Charist, who was arrested a few days ago for drunkenness was arraigned in court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty. However, after hearing the testimony of the arresting officers, the court found the defendant guilty and ordered him committed to the common jail for a term of 40 days from which he appealed. He was held in the sum of $200.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned, take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors whose sympathies and sending beautiful floral offerings materially lightened the burden of grief in our sad bereavement in the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. H. DENT TRUST FUND MAY BE GIVEN TO CHARITABLE INSTITUTION

It was about twelve years ago that little Arthur Dent disappeared from his home on the Lawrence corporation and no trace has been found and not a word has been heard from him since. Arthur was a bright little lad and a general favorite. He was last seen playing near the canal and at first it was believed that he had been drowned but when the water was let out of the canal there was no sign of the body. A woman, who was said to be a gypsy, was seen about Arthur's home during the day and it was said that she seemed to be watching him and it was believed that she had kidnapped him. A goodly sum of money was raised by popular subscription and a reward was offered for the recovery of the boy, dead or alive. Private detectives were employed and trances mediums consulted to no avail and Arthur is still among the missing. The fund collected and offered as a reward for his recovery was deposited in one of the local savings banks and trustees were appointed. It is said that the fund amounts to about $1500, interest included, and a meeting of the trustees for the purpose of disposing of the fund will be held this evening. It was stated today that the fund would probably be given to some charitable institution.

BANDIT KING KILLED WHILE FIGHTING POLICE

French Police Had to Blow up the Bandits' Lair Near Paris—Five Policemen Wounded

PARIS, May 15.—The career of the last of France's notorious bandit gang was dramatically ended this morning, when, after an eight hours' battle with police and troops, its leader, Octave Garnier, and his confederate, Vallet, were conquered by the use of high explosives in a small villa at Nogent-sur-Marne, where they had taken refuge.

Shattered by dynamite, their stronghold fell in ruins when melenite was exploded under its walls. The police found Garnier dead and Vallet dying. Five policemen were wounded in the battle.

The explosion left a yawning opening in the villa, through which police dogs sprang, while the police and troops sent volley after volley into the ruins.

Unhappily, some of the bullets rebounded from the bricks, while others emerged on the opposite side, so that two policemen were wounded. Then an armed force holding torches rushed into the ruins and discovered the two bandits.

Garnier was naked, save for a few tattered rags. He appeared to be dead. Vallet was dead or dying. The crowd of spectators, wildly enraged, rushed up and tried to seize the bandits, but with great difficulty the police drove them back. Automobiles were backed up and the bandits placed in them, when the crowd again attempted to tear them from the troops.

Hundreds also surrounded the prefect of police, and with cries of "Vive Lepine" tried to carry him off in triumph. Several thousand police, gendarmes and zouaves, tried for hours to shoot the bandits and destroy the building with explosives. Three policemen fell from the desperadoes' bullets, but though the villa was badly damaged by dynamite, the bandits showed no signs of surrendering.

Garnier made his last stand in a house hidden by foliage and surrounded closely by other buildings, making an assault very difficult. He was seen to bay following his mistake in trying to negotiate stolen securities at a bunch of a big banking house, whereby he and his companions, Vallet and the woman Vulliamin were tracked to Nogent. All three, who were decorated blondes, dyed their hair jet black. An indiscretion by the woman today enabled the police to fix their lair to a certainty. She went to a public pump to get drinking water, where she was met by a Parisian woman, Vulliamin, who is of Basque origin, carried the jug of water on her shoulder, after the custom of the country. The Parisian noticed the fact and gave the alarm.

When the police arrived at the villa, which was known as the Maulin Rouge, M. Guichard, superintendent of detectives, carrying the tri-colored sash of his office, cried: "Open in the name of the law."

A man hidden in the garden responded with revolver fire. This formally began the battle and siege. M. Guichard was not hit and retreated. He mobilized the detectives, police and gendarmes, who carried rifles, while a company of zouaves from the nearby barracks joined the forces. An enormous crowd hindered operations, however, and had to be driven back.

Six inspectors, protected by sheets of steel furnished by a gunsmith, cautiously approached the house. They encountered a murderous fire, but were not wounded. Three of the police, however, fell seriously wounded. In the meantime the police and spec-

WHY DON'T YOU HELP THAT WEAK, SICK STOMACH OF YOURS?

Why Go Through Life Afraid to Eat Just What You Desire and Enjoy?

Just use Stomach-Rite tablets and begin to take some comfort. I earnestly believe that if your stomach is affected the liver is also. Stomach-Rite treats the stomach and liver at the same time and I think that is the strongest reason why Stomach-Rite cures when others fail—it eliminates the trouble over-coming indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, sour stomach, heartburn and last but not least, constipation.

Thousands have testified to the remarkable curative qualities of Stomach-Rite and one box will quickly prove to you that it is the supreme stomach and liver medicine.

As pleasant to eat as candy, Stomach-Rite tablets relieve your suffering at once—you feel better after the first tablet.

Stomach disorders cause many serious complications and should be promptly attended to. Don't let your trouble run on into something serious and incurable.

Enjoy your meals by obtaining a box of Stomach-Rite and begin to use the tablets at once, that your stomach may gain strength and digest your food.

Not a patent medicine, but made from a prescription of the late Dr. John Wilbur, Western, R. I. Refuse substitutes by seeing that his picture is on your box.

DOUGS, The Druggist
Cor. Merrimack and Central Streets, Agents for Lowell.

Timothy Hanrahan, Boston; William F. Thornton, Lowell, and Peter F. Hanley, Boston.

State Deputy O'Brien opened the convention and made his final report. He said an increase of nearly 2300 members has been attained, being the largest of any year since the order was instituted in this state.

State Secretary Watson gave his report, confirming statistics given by the state deputy. Chaplain McCarthy urged the development of a true Catholic spirit among the council members. He suggested an annual memorial for the dead.

The convention was closed at 8 o'clock last night, after recommendations and suggestions were made to be carried to the national convention by the delegates elected. The 20th annual state convention will be in Springfield May 13, 1913.

BROWN DENIES

THAT HE IS NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH EXPERT'S REPORT

Speaking of the report of the expert accountant who went over the financial books of the city, today, Commissioner Brown said: "The impression seems to have gone out that I am not in sympathy with the report of Mr. Rex, the expert accountant. Now that is not a correct impression. I am not opposed to the report as a whole. The only matter I want cleared up has to do with the deficit in the general treasury. I asked how much is the deficit and my question remains unanswered."

CANAL BRIDGE

WORK ON IT WILL BE STARTED SATURDAY NIGHT

George W. Brown, commissioner of streets and highways, announced today that he would begin work on the reconstruction of the bridge across the canal in Market street next Saturday night. He has notified the shutters to have the way cleared by May 21 and he intends to push the work through as rapidly as possible. The bridge will be closed to teams and a foot-bridge for the accommodation of pedestrians will be constructed. The northern side of the bridge was pronounced unsafe and was closed a few days ago.

STRIKERS QUIET

NO TROUBLE IN VICINITY OF MERRIMACK MILLS

Contrary to yesterday the strikers of the Merrimack mill were very quiet today. This morning a large number of picketers were on duty, but they were not as numerous as they have been since the strike broke out. They marched up and down the sidewalk in Moody street, but no trouble of any kind was reported.

The banners which were usually carried in the parade as well as the American flag were not in evidence. The strikers marched in twos on the sidewalk and were very peaceful. They did not shout as was their custom, but simply went along and occasionally sang to some going to work.

The same thing was repeated at noon, and although several officers were on hand, their services were not required.

LICENSE BOARD

TOOK ACTION ON A NUMBER OF MINOR LICENSES

At the regular meeting of the license board, held last night, considerable routine business was transacted. BREEN FOUND GUILTY IN DYNAMITE CASE

Charged With Intent to Injure Strikers

SALEM, May 15.—J. J. Breen, a member of the school committee of Lawrence, was found guilty of one of the three counts of the indictment in which he was charged with planting dynamite during the recent textile strike in that city by a jury in the Essex county superior court here today. Sentence was deferred. The count on which Breen was found guilty charged that he intended to injure the strikers in the conduct of their strike. The second and third counts, upon which he was found not guilty, alleged that he intended to injure the persons upon whose property the dynamite was found. The dynamite was found in a collier shop, in a tailor shop and in a cemetery on January 19th.

BUTLER STATUE

BILL WAS PASSED BY THE HOUSE TODAY

The bill to erect a statue to the memory of the late General Butler was passed by the lower branch of the state legislature today by a vote of 110 to 108. Senator Barlow is making a great fight for the measure and says he feels pretty sure it will go through the senate.

FUNERALS

RACICOT—After impressive services at Notre Dame de Lourdes church, the remains of one of the best known and most highly respected residents of this city, Mrs. H. A. Racicot nee Emeline Joubert, were tenderly consigned to their last resting place in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. The funeral was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends of deceased who deemed it their duty to pay a last tribute to one whom they cherished and loved. The long cortege left the late home of deceased, 217 Middlesex street, at 9 o'clock, and moved to Notre Dame de Lourdes church where solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of her soul. The church was filled with people among them being a large delegation of St. Anne's sodality and of the Third Order of St. Francis of which deceased was a prominent member.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Leon Lamothe, O. M. I. pastor, who was assisted by Rev. Fr. Laguerre, E. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. J. B. Barrette, O. M. I., as sub deacon. The choir which had been augmented by a large number of singers from the other French church, choirs rendered Perreault's harmonized mass under the direction of Mr. Frank Gourdau, the solos of the mass being sustained by Messrs. Olier J. David, Dr. George E. Calise, Theophile Brassard, E. J. Laroche and Frank Gourdau. At the offertory, E. J. Robillard sang Leybach's "Pie Jesu," in a most sympathetic way, while at the communion Rosevige's "O Meritum Passionis" was sung in charming manner by Miss Irene W. Parthenais. As the body was being borne from the church the choir rendered "De Profundis," Miss Anna Alexander presiding at the organ.

The bearers were Messrs. William Parthenais, Pierre Messier, Louis Audias Dupont, Camille Roussin, Louis P. Turcotte and M. Piche. The delegation from St. Anne's sodality which went to the cemetery was composed of the following: Meedames P. X. Dostaler, J. Sansoucy, S. Renaud, A. Lemire and M. Piche.

Among the many floral tributes were the following: Crescent of roses and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Gregoire; spray, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Desmarais; spray, the Misses Maria and Regina Cognac; spray, Mrs. Free and family; spray, Mrs. Roberts; spray, Mrs. McNelis; wreath of 73 roses representing age of deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Racicot of Malden; spray, Mrs. Bisson of Baltic, Conn.; large pillow inscribed "Mother," daughters of deceased, as well as a large spiritual bouquet from the members of St. Anne's sodality.

Among the out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were the following: Mr. Olive Chagnon, son-in-law of deceased of St. Jean, Que.; Mrs. Alexandre Normandin, daughter of deceased of Montreal, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. Bisson, the latter a daughter of deceased of Baltic, Conn.; Mr. Eusebe Joubert, brother of Amesbury; Mr. Joseph A. Racicot, son of Malden and Mr. Arthur Racicot, son of Beverly. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. J. B. Barrette, O. M. I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Dr. J. E. Nolet and Undertaker, Amedee Archambault.

BARRETT HOT AFTER CITY TREASURER

The Alderman Says That
He Will Prefer
Charges

At last night's meeting of the municipal council Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett moved that the board proceed to the election of a successor to Andrew G. Stiles, treasurer and collector of taxes. Mayor O'Donnell called the commissioner's attention to that section of the new charter which states that charges must be brought in writing against a city official before he can be removed. Later on Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be suspended, pending a hearing and Commissioner Brown seconded the motion with the understanding that the city treasurer would be given all the opportunity necessary to defend himself. Mayor O'Donnell, however, on the question of procedure, ruled Mr. Barrett out of order. The latter appealed from the ruling of the chair and the ruling was sustained by a vote of two to two, the mayor declining to vote. Mr. Barrett said it was not his desire to embarrass any member of the council and he said he would submit his charges in writing at the next meeting.

ALDERMAN BARRETT

Mr. Barrett held yesterday afternoon that he would make a motion at last night's meeting for the election of a successor to Mr. Stiles. The report of the afternoon meeting appeared in The Sun and all seats were taken in the gallery and on the floor when Mayor O'Donnell called to order shortly before eight o'clock last night.

The most important financial business of the evening had to do with the petition to the legislature for permission to borrow $700,000 and it was finally voted, after hearing from Commissioner Donnelly and City Solicitor Hennessy, who had consulted with Charles F. Gettemy, head of the bureau of statistics, to authorize the city solicitor to draw up a new petition in accordance with the suggestions offered by Mr. Gettemy, which was to make two loans of $350,000 each as hereinafter stated.

The meeting was in session more than two hours before any very big matters were touched upon, a great deal of time being given over to discussion having to do with city work in general and there was a big raft of petitions to dispose of.

Leave to withdraw was reported on the petition for a pole location on June street.

An order granting the Lowell Gas Light company permission to erect six poles in Middlesex street for a "Great White Way" demonstration, at the expense of the company, was adopted. An order to borrow $15,350 and appropriate the same for macadamizing streets, the money to be paid in five equal annual payments, came up city hall on inauguration day was before the council. Mr. Cummings said he didn't know who had ordered the flowers and thought the bill should be looked into. Mr. Barrett moved that the bill be paid out of the fund of the commissioner of public buildings. It was so voted.

Hearings on petitions for electric lights at the corner of Stafford and Mainfield streets, and Haven and Stafford streets were in order. Edward W. Trull, one of the petitioners, said that two new houses have recently been erected in the vicinity. The petitions were granted.

George E. Putnam petitioned for the right to keep and store gasoline, and a hearing was slated for June 1, at 2 p. m.

A hearing on a petition of Marcel Hahert for an electric light between 211 and 223 Lincoln street was opened. Dr. Wesley Sawyer favored the petition, as did Mr. Parry. No remonstrance. The petition was granted.

An order granting permission to the Lowell Shuttle Co. to attach its fixtures and wires to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Co. in Tanner street, was adopted.

Other orders adopted were: Lowell Electric Light Co. to attach fixtures to poles of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co. on Westford near Grand street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles at the corner of Marginal and Wilder streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles at the corner of Norcross and Chelmsford streets; Lowell Electric Light Corp. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles on West Adams street; Lowell Electric Light Corp. to attach wires, etc., to poles of the Commercial Union Tel. Co. on Pine street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to make additional attachments to its own poles on Chelmsford street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles on Twelfth and Bridge streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. on Plain street between Chelmsford and Parker streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to make attachments on Oaklands street; Lowell Electric Light Corp. to make attachments to poles on Gorham street, opposite Lincoln street.

An order to borrow $72,750 to be paid in twenty annual payments for the paving of certain streets with grouted granite blocks on a granite base was next in order for action. The streets to be paved in portions are Church, Gorham, Pawtucket, East Merrimack, Alken and Lawrence streets.

Mr. Brown said he would first do East Merrimack street, and would then do Church street. After that would come Pawtucket street.

Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be authorized to borrow from time to time an amount not to exceed $2,000 to pave the streets named, the auditor to inform him when amounts are needed. Mr. O'Donnell did not consider the method suggested legal. Mr. Barrett then moved the amount be borrowed in three equal amounts. Mr. Brown seconded. Mayor O'Donnell said that the order, thus acted upon, would become a new order, and that the old formula would have to be gone through with. Mr. Barrett said work need not be delayed; that it might be started in anticipation of the money being borrowed.

The engineer changed the reading of the order No. 3, to borrow $72,250, in three equal parts, to be paid in 20 equal annual payments, was presented to the council. The city clerk was instructed to give the customary notice.

An order to lay a sewer in Saratoga street, a distance of 110 feet, at a cost of $29, the assessment on abutters being $30, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Mt. Grove street, a distance of 212 feet, at a cost of $335, assessment being $135, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Riverside street, a distance of 1005 feet, at a cost of $3190, assessment being $1590, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in West Sixth street, a distance of 190 feet, at a cost of $578, assessment being $218, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Tenth street, a distance of 512 feet, at a cost of $1581, assessment being $700, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Mt. Hope street, a distance of 90 feet, at a cost of $316, assessment being $90, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Winthrop avenue, a distance of 21 feet, at a cost of $445, assessment being $223, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Plain street, a distance of 202 feet, at a cost of $420, assessment being $210, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Troy street, a distance of 265 feet, at a cost of $1251, assessment being $475, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Caroline street and Boicourt avenue, a distance of 995 feet, at a cost of $3131, assessment being $550, was allowed to remain tabled.

Mr. Brown moved that $5000 be appropriated for the building of the Market street bridge. About $3000 was left over for this work from last year, he said. He said he would bring in a loan order for $19,000 for bridge work at the next meeting. Mr. Brown's recommendation was not seconded.

It was agreed that Mr. Brown should draft an order for the rebuilding of the Market street bridge, and to bring it before the council at the next meeting.

The ordinance formed by the city solicitor regulating the traffic rules of the city was enrolled.

Must Give Reason
At 10:37 o'clock Alderman Barrett moved that the council proceed to the election of a successor to Andrew G. Stiles, city treasurer and collector of taxes. Mayor O'Donnell called the commissioner's attention to section 40 of the charter as amended. The section says that the municipal council shall have the power under the laws regulating civil service to suspend or remove any executive or administrative officer or head of a sub-department if he has the power to appoint, for such cause as he shall deem sufficient, but he section requires that the municipal council shall set forth in the order of suspension or removal its reasons therefor.

"Supposing I should say that the cause was for allowing $19,000 to be spent for purposes other than that for which it was appropriated?" said Mr. Barrett.

"It would be only fair that such an official should be given due notice of the action to be taken, in order that he might have an opportunity to be heard," said City Solicitor Hennessy.

"Suppose some member of this council had committed a criminal act, I don't say that one has or ever will, but just for the sake of argument, would it be necessary to make charges in writing?" asked Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Hennessy allowed that it would.

"What are the duties of the city treasurer?" asked Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Hennessy went to his office for the rules governing the position, and, at 10:15 o'clock a recess of five minutes was taken. Upon resuming the session Mr. Hennessy read from the statutes to the effect that a "treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties, receive and take charge of all moneys belonging to the city, and shall annually render a true account of receipts and disbursements."

Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be suspended in accordance with the foregoing section. The motion was not seconded.

"What are you trying to make out—are you insinuating that the treasurer stole the money, or what is back of this anyway?" asked Ald. Brown.

"I simply mean to say that after the expert accountant showed that the $19,000 existed in name only, the city treasurer should have resigned at once, and no action of mine or yours should have been necessary," replied Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Brown asked if the city treasurer was to be given a chance to explain the Huntington hall money and receive ing a reply in the affirmative from Mr. Barrett, said he would second the motion.

Alderman Brown asked the city solicitor if there is a difference between "appointment" and "election," as applied to an official.

Mr. Hennessy said that all administrative offices of this government are elected; none is appointed. The phrases are used interchangeably in the statutes. In section 37 of the amended charter, the word "elected" appears. He considered them synonymous terms. He then went on to explain the application of civil service laws relative to the discharge of an official.

Mr. Brown quoted the phrase "for such cause as shall be deemed sufficient," and wanted to know what that meant.

"He shall annually render a true account of all receipts and disbursements, and a record of his official acts; that is why," said Mr. Barrett.

"This is a question of procedure," said the mayor.

"Then you rule my motion out of order?"

"Yes."

"Then I appeal from the decision." On a ye and nay vote, Messrs. Barrett and Brown voted not to sustain the presiding officer; Messrs. Cummings and Donnelly voted to sustain. The mayor did not vote. Mr. Barrett at once said he did not wish to embarrass members of the council, and so withdrew his motion.

Mr. Donnelly said that he and City Solicitor Hennessy had spent the greater part of Monday with Mr. Gettemy of the bureau of statistics. Again on Tuesday time was spent with him, and the matter of going to the legislature to ask permission to borrow $700,000 to wipe out the city's debt was discussed. Mr. Donnelly asked the solicitor to explain the result of the conference.

Mr. Hennessy said Mr. Gettemy seemed very well acquainted with the city's finances, with the exception of the Huntington hall matter. He wished to know what would be done with the $410,000 uncollected taxes, due January 1. He said the legislature would never think of granting such permission with such funds available.

However, if $350,000 were asked for, payable in 10 years, with funded rates issued against it, it might be possible to get permission from the legislature. With regard to the remaining $350,000, to be borrowed on a two-year term, and create a sinking fund to pay it, to be paid out of the taxes of 1911, Mr. Gettemy felt the situation might be relieved here. He felt it the only thing the legislature can do, and asked that the plan be presented to the municipal council.

On July 1st the city must meet $700,000, he said. There are two ways: One to borrow $700,000, to which plan the legislature will not agree. Mr. Gettemy felt that if the money is borrowed on a 20-year loan, to be paid by the raising of taxation, there will remain $450,000, which sum will prove a temptation to the council to go ahead and spend part of it without having the wherewithal to pay back the sums borrowed.

Mr. Hennessy dilated upon the plan in vogue in Springfield, where taxes are raised in very clean.

Mr. Barrett said there is a very great difference between Lowell and Springfield.

"What method can you devise to show how we can pay $350,000 in two years, where we haven't been able to pay a dollar on the temporary loan?" asked Mr. Barrett.

"We have $410,000 of uncollected taxes as a working asset. In July we will have $30,000 due for 1910 taxes. That month $750,000 will fall due."

"The explanation is very good, in theory," said Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Hennessy said that public conscience would have to come to the assistance of the government. "There isn't a city in the commonwealth but has been doing business on borrowed money," he continued.

"We did business on money that wasn't borrowed. We did business on fire insurance money," said Mr. Barrett.

"Every dollar we spend this year should be taken out of this year's tax levy," asked the mayor.

"Precisely."

The mayor suggested that action be taken in accordance with the suggestions offered by Mr. Gettemy.

The original bill, to ask permission to borrow $700,000, was withdrawn, and in its place was substituted the following bill, which was voted the committee on the part of the legislature at the earliest possible moment.

To authorize the city of Lowell to fund a certain portion of its indebtedness.

Section 1—The city of Lowell, by vote of two-thirds of the members of the municipal council taken by yeas and nays, is authorized to incur indebtedness to an amount not to exceed three hundred and fifty thousand dollars to be borrowed outside the limit of indebtedness fixed by law, and to issue notes or bonds therefor bearing interest at a rate not to exceed four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the same to be denominated their face. "City of Lowell Funding Loan, 1912," and the proceeds of which shall be applied exclusively to the cancellation and extinction of certain indebtedness represented by notes issued in anticipation of taxes on or before January first, nineteen hundred and twelve.

Section 2—The indebtedness incurred under this act shall be paid in such proportionate or other annual payments as will extinguish the same within 10 years after the date of issue of the first note or bond issued in accordance herewith, and so that the amount of such annual payment in any year and the whole interest of such debt, so far as such debt is less than the aggregate amount of principal and interest payable in any subsequent year, shall, without further vote, be assessed under the provisions of section thirty-seven, part one, chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and nine, until such debt is extinguished.

Section 3—The city of Lowell is also authorized to extend any portion of the tax loans issued prior to January 1, 1912, and now outstanding, not otherwise funded in accordance with the provisions of this act, for a period not to exceed two years, and all collections on account of the taxes assessed in the year 1911, made subsequent to January 1, 1912, shall be set aside as a fund and shall be applied to the payment of said tax loans not funded in pursuance to section one of this act and to no other purpose until all said tax loans shall have been paid.

Section 4—None of said money shall be paid out except on the certificate of the city solicitor provided city that it is for the purposes provided in the foregoing section.

Section 5—This act shall take effect upon its passage.

THE GRAND TRUNK BILL IS FAVORED

By a Sub-Committee of the Com-

the Legislature

According to Plans the Route Will Be Through Tyngsboro, Chelmsford, Lowell, Bil-
lerica and Tewksbury

BOSTON, May 13.—A sub committee of the legislative committee on railroads reported to the full committee yesterday a bill permitting the Southern New England railroad to extend its lines to Boston. The extension proposed by the Grand Trunk officials comes in three directions from the southwest from the authorized line from Maine, through Providence, to the northwest from Bellows Falls, Vt., and also from Blackstone, Mass. The bill was advocated before the committee on railroads by a number of business organizations in the state and by President Fitzhugh of the Southern New England road, while the principal opposition came from the representatives of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

In Middlesex county the road will run through the towns of Tyngsboro, Chelmsford, Tewksbury, Billerica, Bedford, Lexington, Arlington and Melrose, and as the city of Lowell, Bedford, Cambridge, Everett, Chelsea and Boston.

Well But Got Poor Support—
Change in Standing

BROCKTON, May 15.—Brockton defeated the Lowell champions in a close game here yesterday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The defeat of the Lowell team caused them to drop in the standing to third place, as Brockton and Lawrence are on the top, each team winning 9 and losing 5. Zeiser, who was on the mound for Lowell, pitched a good game, but his teammates played a rather loose game, making six misplays during the game.

Lowell was first to score. In the second inning the champs sent one man across the rubber. With two down Miller singled to center field and then stole second. Lavigne got on by an error by J. Sullivan at short and Miller went to the third corner. Zeiser hit to the other Sullivan on the middle sack and the ball went through him and Miller trotted home. Nye closed the inning with a fly to Barry.

Brockton came back in the same inning and tied the score. With one down, H. Sullivan walked on four wide ones. Wadleigh hit to Nye, who tossed to Cooney and the latter dropped the ball and both men were safe. Upham struck out. Maloney singled to center and Sullivan scored. A quick throw by Lavigne to first nailed Maloney and ended the agony.

There was no more scoring until the last of the fourth, when Brockton sent one runner over the pan, winning the game. After J. Sullivan swung at three big ones, his brother hit right for two bases. Wadleigh sent a fly to Ferrin in right and the latter dropped the ball and H. Sullivan scored. Upham tied to Boutes, Maloney hit to the Lowell captain and he lost the ball and the runner got on. Smith closed the inning, by the Nye-Miller route.

There was no more scoring. The score:

Giants Look Like National League Pennant

Winners---Are the Best Fortified Team

Although the 1912 season is still in its infancy, it now looks as if the Giants are going to run away with the National League pennant. Since the campaign opened McGraw's men have been playing great ball, and if they can keep up their present gait the team ought to have the flag clinched by the middle of July. And there is no reason why the club should not. McGraw has the best fortified club in the parent organization. He has a good substitute for every position on the team—players who can jump in on a moment's notice and put up as good a game as the regulars. This was demonstrated recently. Doyle, second sacker and captain of the team, was injured. Shafer, was placed at second and in batting and fielding did equally as good work as Capt. Doyle. During that same period Fletcher, regarded as the regular shortstop, was hurt. Again McGraw Becker. The last named is a splendidly prepared. He had Groh, a young hitter and a good ground coverer. This player, who filled in at short field, it shows McGraw is better fortified than most managers who have a team built after the first two rounds the Jerseyite was more a punching bag. He fought with the courage of despair and took a severe trouncing but never had a chance to land an effective blow.

EASY FOR MIKE GIBBONS
BUFFALO, May 15.—Mike Gibbons

of St. Paul easily won over Paddy Lavin in their scheduled 10-round bout before the Buffalo A. A. last night. The referee stopped the fight in the eighth round to save Lavin from a knockout, after the Buffalo boy had taken the worst beating ever given him.

From the moment they came together the St. Paul fighter had everything his own way. Three times in the fifth Gibbons sent Lavin to the floor. In the sixth the Buffalo boy went down again, and in the seventh he was on the mat twice.

Before the eighth was well under way Lavin had been floored twice, and it was evident that he could not last. Referee Collins then ordered the bout stopped.

STOPS WALTZ IN 11TH
PROVIDENCE, May 15.—Tommy Bergen of Lewiston, Me., stopped Johnny Waltz of New York in the 11th round of the main bout at the new Marienville A. C. in North Providence, last night. In the course of the battle Waltz was knocked or wrestled down 11 times.

In the preliminaries Mickey Davine of this city and Young Buster of Philadelphia fought a six-round draw, George Jansen lost to Tommy Moore on a foul and Young Ketchel of Manville knocked out Young Lemore of Harrisville in three rounds.

BRIT NESTS HOUCKE
BALTIMORE, May 15.—The 15-round battle between Tommy Houcke of Philadelphia and Young Brit of this city went the latter last night, the decision going to Young Brit, who had the better of the fight all the way. The last that can be said of the Philadelphia is that he showed remarkable gameness. Brit put up a scientific battle.

JASPER AND EAGAN
ARE BOTH CONFIDENT
Of Winning Tomorrow
Night's Bout

The program for tomorrow night's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club is one that should appeal to every member of the organization. Four good bouts are on the card and the main bout promises to be one of the best ever staged in this city. This will be of twelve rounds and will be furnished by Young Jasper of Boston and Kid Eagan of Woburn. Jasper is one of the most popular boxers who ever appeared in Lowell. He has taken part in several bouts and has always given satisfaction. His recent bout with Young Boyle will be recalled as one of the best of the season. He won in the tenth round, and gave a great exhibition. Eagan will make his first appearance here but his reputation is well known in Lowell. He met Jasper on one occasion and got the decision. Some were of the opinion that a draw was a good verdict. He also defeated Young Clancy a short time ago winning by the K. O. route. He is a very classy performer and is in good shape for tomorrow night. The semi final is one of the A 1 variety. This will show Charlie Anastos, the local Greek champion and Paddy De Luca of Boston, two very clever boys. Both are in tip top condition for the meeting and each is confident of pulling off the award. The first preliminary will be between Young Joseph and Young Ketchel, both of this city. Ketchel is one of the fastest youngsters in the game and last week he stopped his man in the second round. Joseph is also fast and expects to take a full out of the clever Belvidere boy. Another prelim will also be given. In the latter Gardner Brooks will meet an unknown. The meeting will be held in Matley hall and the first bout will start at 8.15 o'clock.

What Kind of a Guarantee Do You Want, Mr. Automobile Buyer?

Some of our competitors guarantee their cars for 90 days. All right; that's better than nothing and good enough for some people who don't care. It is even a quarter as good as the Studebaker guarantee.

Then there is another kind of guarantee. A guarantee ascribed of itself, we call it, because all the assurance you have is the car's "records." That is about as good as a promise that wasn't made. The dealer knows his car better than you do and if he won't sign a guarantee, be careful.

This is where the Studebaker guarantee comes to the front. It is as good as gold—a signed warranty bond of The Studebaker Corporation. And it's good for a year because every Studebaker E-M-F "30" or Flanders "20" is worth the price you pay for it. We know what our cars will do and we put down our money on them.

Remember this: In guarantee and parts prices The Studebaker Corporation takes better care of its owners than any other automobile company in the world.

Send for our new catalogue. It will interest you.

LEAD POISONING CASES

Were Reported to Board of Health

At a regular meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon, Dr. Brunelle, chairman, stated that several cases of lead poisoning had been reported to him casually, and that one of the attending physicians had intimated that the cause of poisoning was the drinking of Cook well water after having passed through lead pipes, the action of the water on the lead pipes producing the poison.

The board voted to confer with Commissioner Barrett of the water works and ask him to notify the general public when the Cook well water is being used.

Malvin M. Master, inspector of milk, reported the taking of 15 samples of milk from restaurants, 16 of those showing the effects of skimming. This brought the milk below the requirements plan. Two of the samples showed plainly that they had been watered.

The board took no action on the report.

Mr. Orsmond read a letter from the Women's guild, in which cooperation with the board in the giving of lectures and demonstrations relative to the care of babies, by girls of 12 years or over, was offered. The board discussed the proposition. Drs. Brunelle and Carroll considering such action to be impracticable at the present time.

Mrs. Mary Cheney Allard was granted permission to maintain a living-in hospital at 30 Whitney avenue.

A hearing on petition of the Independent Order of Brith Abraham, for a permit to operate a cemetery near the Chelmsford town line, was ordered for next Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

The regular meeting of Division 11, A. O. H., was held in Hibernian hall last evening, with a large attendance. After the routine business was disposed of, a letter was read from the secretary of the Central council regarding the annual communion of the local divisions. It was unanimously voted that Division 11 meet in the local hall, Sunday, May 26, at 7 a. m., and march in conjunction with the other divisions, to the Immaculate Conception church.

Notification was also given of a mass meeting to be held in Hibernian hall, Sunday afternoon, May 13, for the discussion of building fund plans.

Gen. Fiske Lodge
Gen. Fiske lodge, No. 41, I. O. G. T., held its regular meeting in Veritas hall Monday evening.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock with Chief Templar Julius T. Adams, Jr., in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted. There was a large attendance of members. Two candidates were initiated, also several propositions for membership. It was voted to hold the next meeting in the hall. In the drawing for a Morris chair, the prize was won by Miss Lillian Newell, 34 Lincoln street. No. 173 was the lucky number. There were remarks for the good of the order by Mr. Hoyle, district chief templar and Wm. Boddie, district past chief templar and other members. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

KILBANE AN EASY WINNER
IN BOUT WITH FRANKIE BURNSOnly the Bell Saved Burns From Being Knocked Out—Gibbons
Defeated Lavin

NEW YORK, May 15.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland proved that he was a master boxer and a worthy holder of the featherweight title by giving Frankie Burns of New Jersey a severe beating throughout a 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas A. C. last night.

In every session Kilbane gained the honors. He cut Frankie's lips and nose and closed up his right eye before the fight ended.

Burns was weak and staggering at the finish and was in such a bad plight physically that only the bell saved him.

Another minute of fighting and Kilbane would have scored a knockout. Kilbane showed that he is a marvelous boxer and a hard two-handed fighter, the best that has fought here in many years.

He had all the cleverness of Abe Attell when that lad was in the heyday of his career. Combined with his wonderful boxing was his ability to punch hard. His footwork was on a par with that of Paeky McFarland and Mike Gibbons. All in all he was a marvel of the art of fighting. He left the ring without a mark.

At close quarters Johnny displayed brilliant defense. He caught Burns' blow on his gloves and pulled them down. When this was accomplished the champion never missed the chance to shower blows to Frankie's face.

Kilbane carried the fight to Burns after feeling him out in the first round. Johnny's lightning-like shifts, his sweeping attacks and his ability to hit fast and hard with either hand bewildered Burns to such a degree that after the first two rounds the Jerseyite was more a punching bag. He fought with the courage of despair and took a severe trouncing but never had a chance to land an effective blow.

ELECTIONS BY POPULAR VOTE

The demand of the hour is for direct voting in the selection of every public official of importance for city, state and nation. This is getting away from the provisions of the constitution which gives the choice of United States senators to the state legislatures and of president to the presidential electors chosen every fourth year by the states. This quadrennial election is known as the presidential election whereas in reality no citizen of the United States at that election votes directly for president. The presidential electors choose the president, and although these are pledged to carry out the wishes of their respective states they stand as delegates to a permanent convention. The electors, not the voters at large, choose the president under the instructions given and in accordance with the constitution.

It does not always follow by this method that the candidate favored by the largest number of voters will be president. The electoral system has on more than one occasion defeated the will of the people, notably in 1824 when General Jackson received 50,551 more votes than John Quincy Adams who was elected. Again in 1876 Mr. Tilden received 250,935 votes more than Mr. Hayes who became president. In 1888 Grover Cleveland received 98,017 more votes than Harrison, the successful candidate. In 1896 if Mr. Bryan had received 30,000 more votes in certain close states he would have been elected, despite the fact that Mr. McKinley had a plurality of 600,000 of the popular vote.

Thus it is clear that the electoral system of choosing a president may defeat the will of the people. In a similar manner the United States senators may not represent the will of the people. It is a fact that in many cases they certainly do not. It is alleged that legislatures are bribed to elect certain men to the senate, thus by another and even more dangerous method defeating the will of the people. These are the chief reasons for demanding the direct election of senators and the direct preferential primary for president. If, however, the constitution be amended to provide for the popular election of United States senators, it should also be amended so that the people could elect the president without the intervention of any such bungling arrangement as the electoral college. The time is coming when both these changes will be made, and it would be absurd to make one without making the other. They are equally important and equally necessary. If the people are to have the right to vote directly for United States senators they should also have the right to vote for the president of the United States instead of voting for a number of proxies to do the work for them.

The amendment for the direct election of senators has been agitated for a considerable time with varying success. Congress has adopted the proposition, and it now goes to the states for ratification as soon as the president shall have signed the measure.

The question in congress turned finally upon the adoption of the District amendment which would place the control of senatorial elections in charge of the senate as the constitution places the election of representatives in control of the house.

Although many of the states have passed upon the general question of electing senators by popular vote, they will all be required to act upon it in this new form in which it is presented. There is little doubt that the necessary three-fourths vote of the states will be forthcoming and that the amendment will be carried in due time.

TAFT WAKES UP

President Taft out in his own bailiwick in Ohio is telling the people some very plain truths and some, too, that require to be told in order to guard against what is a very serious menace to the nation; we refer to the possibility of Roosevelt's election for a third term.

"With Roosevelt it is 1, 1, 1, all the time," says the president. That's a fact, Mr. President: the Colonel has certainly a great weakness for the personal pronoun "I." But here are a few more facts that should receive serious consideration from every voter:

"Suppose you feed that egotism and vanity and put him in office with a census of power and a disregard of constitutional restrictions. It would be dangerous for this country."

"I hold that that man is a demagogue and a flatterer, who comes out and tells the people they know it all. I have a flatterer. I like a man to tell the truth straight out and I hate to see a man try to honeycomb the people by telling them something he doesn't believe."

"Do you think," he asked, "that Abraham Lincoln, to whom Mr. Roosevelt so often refers and to whom he likes to compare himself and to whom he bears less resemblance than anyone I know in the history of this country, would have acted as he has and misinterpreted me as he has?"

Now after reading this statement from President Taft we reach one of two conclusions in reference thereto—either the president has hesitated to speak his mind of Roosevelt in the past or else the real character of the man has just shined upon him. The president has certainly had sufficient opportunity to plain talk since Roosevelt has been charging him with alliance with the corrupt bosses and combines throughout the country without at any point coming down to anything specific. He cannot meet President Taft in an argument, and that is why he evades every specific issue and deals in vague generalities. Mr. Taft has already shown the absurdity of Roosevelt's pretensions for the recall of judges and judicial decisions, and there is nothing left in his campaign material except what President Taft has included in his Ohio speech just quoted and another passage in which he rightly accuses Roosevelt of representing to the country that his election would bring the United States to the verge of the millennium. Far more probably it would bring it to the verge of revolution.

THE SERVICE PENSION LAW

The new service pension law provides a pension based upon age and length of service. Those 60 to 70 years, for two and a half years' service, $18 a month; three years or more, $19 a month; 70 to 75 years, from $21 to $25 a month; over 75 years from $27 to $30. The total addition to the pension expenditure is estimated at from $22,000,000 to $25,000,000 for the next five years, after which the diminishing number of the veterans will cause a reduction. The service pension has long been sought by the veterans and by thousands who did not live to see it enacted.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT
Nobody cares, or at least not me, to know what the fashion next year will be.

Whether wide hoop skirt or a loddie dress:
I don't care 'bout it enough to guess
Whether busy silk of an old design
Or the latest fabric, an' all asbline
With ornamental or glass or jade—
Be it little mother, or winsome maid,
Er the old grandma with the silver curls.

From the grandma's back, to the youngest girl
With the bonneted locks an' the dapper feet
I know I will look at an' call them sweet.

Be it little mothers with tot-worn hands,
Or happy lassies with ribbon bands
On rebellious curls, it's the same to me:
Whatever the style of garments be,
They all look sweet an' they all look nice.

An' all are ready for sacrifice
For the once they love, they are great of soul!
Go, mark the fellow that wins the goal,
An' stands out tall in the blazing light
That plays on them that have won the height.

An' back in the shadow, with love deth walk
The little mother that made him great.

The mother and wives, and the little girls
With their squeaks of glee an' their triumphant curls.

It's them that helps whillet a man grows great,
That keeps him honest an' clean an' straight.

It's them that binds to his soul the wings
That lifts him upward to better things.

It's them that cheers, an' that tells, and grieves
If he turns aside, an' it's them he loves.

In him whatever the world may say,
That wins him back to the upward way.

That steadies him when he starts to fall—
Wives, mothers an' babies—God bless them all!

The Best Treatment for Itching Scalps, Dandruff and Falling Hair

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel. Then repeat the operation all over the head until the whole scalp has been treated. The purpose being to get the Cuticura ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as necessary, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient. For this special treatment for women's hair, Cuticura soap and ointment sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 25¢ Skin Book. Address: Cuticura, Dept. 510, Boston. Legitimate Cuticura preparations have in common with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick. Sample free.

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently cured in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple, scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Nothing better in musical comedy has been seen locally in seasons than this week's offering of the Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre. "Songs and Dances of Ireland," it is called, and it contains some of the richest and best of Irish melodies, good bits of humor, in combination with music and dancing make the affair truly enjoyable and at the same time tends to increase the general popularity which this company enjoys among the patrons of this theatre. Miss Grace Hawthorne, the leading soloist, is heard in two excellent numbers, "Kil-larney" and "Come Back to Erin," and Jack Adams, a new member of the company and others are also delighting in their solo numbers. The dances are also among the most charming features in connection with the act.

"The Star Boarder," a farce comedy presented by Blanche Holt & Co., is a close second in general favor with the patrons. The piece is unusually humorous and the lines are handled especially well by Miss Holt and her supporting cast. It is one continuous laugh from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Lighting Weston, gives a wonderful exhibition of his work with a "revue" and Leslie Thurston, is one of the cleverest and most proficient xylophone soloists on the stage. Emma Cameron, the week's soloist, is heard in new and novel song numbers.

Special mention is made of the plays for the week. Those for the first three days are exceptionally good, and besides are shown for the first time in this city. Those scheduled for the last three days of the week are equally good and are all new to Lowell lovers of picture shows. The temperature of the theatre at all times is cool and comfortable.

HELD A CONFERENCE

Delegates of Evangelical Churches Met

A meeting of representatives of the many Evangelical churches of this city was held last night at the Ministry-at-Large building in Middlesex street. The meeting was called to order at 7 o'clock and was followed by a banquet. Over 100 delegates sat around the festive board including a large number of pastors. At the conclusion of the banquet, Dudley L. Page, president of the Ministry-at-Large, acted as toastmaster and the following were called upon for ten minute speeches: Rev. Clarence L. Skinner of the Grace Episcopal church; Rev. George F. Keenogott of the First Trinitarian Congregational church; Rev. Appleton Grammis of St. Anne's church; Rev. E. Victor Bigelow of the Elliot Congregational church; Rev. Nicholas T. Whitaker, D. D., of the Central Methodist church; Rev. M. B. Lytle of St. Paul's Methodist church; Rev. Charles T. Billings of the First Trinitarian church; Rev. Arthur Bonner, Ph. D., of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church; Rev. Frank Alger of the Pawtucket Congregational church and Rev. John M. Kyle, pastor of the Portuguese mission.

The opening address was delivered by Mrs. Charles Dana Palmer, who made an appeal for a better understanding of the work done by the Ministry-at-Large in which she said it was not done in the name of a religious, statistical Christ, but in the name of humanity.

The other speakers of the evening spoke in a similar vein and they all pledged the support of their churches.

Colonial hall was last night the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being an illustrated lecture on "China and Japan," by Dr. George H. Pillsbury. The affair was attended by a large and select audience and was under the auspices of the Day Nursery. The talk was accompanied by many interesting views that showed in detail the various touches of life as observed by the speaker during his travels in the Far East. The doctor was greeted with loud applause and his lecture was in part as follows:

"Without question the best time to visit Japan is during the months of April, May and June, or in the fall, as the summers are hot, rainy and very oppressive. Warm clothing is very necessary as there are many cold and raw days. On a steamer from San Francisco to Madagascar I have often found my overcoat a great comfort."

The first strange experience in landing in the Bund is that universal vehicle of Japan, the rickshaw, which is nothing more or less than a grown up baby carriage on two high wheels drawn by a coolie in wicker attire, chiefly remarkable for its brevity. The endurance of these coolies is remarkable, they will take a sort of a jog trot and keep it up for miles with an occasional halt for rest, for all day and then the changes of the outfit making walking entirely out of question, as to cents will hire a rickshaw for a day. Everybody uses them, men, women and children, and right comfortably they are."

The speaker then described a part of his voyage from Yokohama to Kobe, relating several interesting incidents en route. He then referred to Manila and said: "I am in a quandary as to how I shall present it to you. It depends upon the political and educational course the government is taking. The Pacific river on which the city is situated is a delightful picture of tropical luxuriance with bamboo groves, strange trees and a rich vegetation and a constant succession of Nipa villages with their houses built of bamboo, covered with thatching and with thatched roofs. Here the people live happily and are satisfied and without ambition so long as the material needs of life are met and their game cock wins in the evening cock fight."

The speaker dwelt at length on Hong Kong, its rivers and mountains, as well as giving a thorough description of Canton, its inhabitants and their mode of living. "At Tokio," said the doctor, "you can find in the station waiting rooms that they have on file all the leading papers in Japanese and in English as well as some of the magazines and it is surprising how universally they are read by all classes of people. There we saw the most ornate and beautiful temple erected many years ago to the Shoguns, then and for many years rulers of Japan."

"In Nihon," said the speaker, "there are temples and shrines in the wildest profusion." The doctor closed by saying: "Now, gentlemen, I have simply touched the high spots of my wandering in the East so full of interest as to have been without one dull or tiresome day and I wish you a hearty adieu."

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently cured in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple, scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

TRUE ORATOR.

"Did you hear Harper's speech last night?"
"Yes; isn't he a wonderfully eloquent and convincing speaker?"
"You bet. I understand that his wife is induced by what he says when talking in his sleep."

MAUDIE SURE IS.

Arthur—Are they classy people.
Evelyn—My, yes. Maud goes out with a young man who wears an aviator costume.

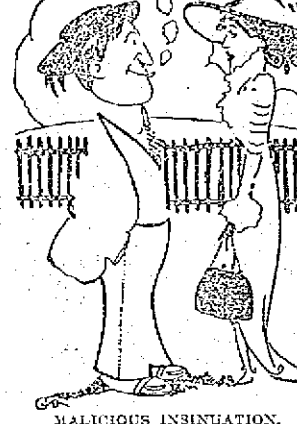

NOT A POLYGAMIST.

"Sir, I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter in marriage."
"Which one—Grace or Ethel?"
"Grace, sir."
"Do you make enough to support two?"
"But, sir, I only wish one."

THE PREVAILING FADE.

"Life is not all beer and skittles."
"No, a good part of it is devoted to afternoon tea and bridge."

MALICIOUS INSINUATION.

She—Do you remember the time when we used to attend dancing school together?
He—Quite well. Why, that wasn't more than 10 years ago.

NO DAMAGE DONE.

Harold—Fred had a narrow escape when his headstrut hit a tree last night.
Evelyn—Yes; and wasn't it luck that he landed on his head?

PERCY PARKER CHOSEN TRUSTEE

At Annual Meeting of the Lowell General Hospital Trustees

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Lowell General hospital was held at the Union National bank yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, President Jacob Rogers in the chair.

The meeting was of unusual importance to the hospital, because of the election of a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. A. St. John Chambré. At a previous meeting a committee was appointed to report a nomination for said vacancy. Mr. Larkin T. Trull reported for said committee and presented the name of Mr. Percy Parker. The report of the committee was received with great favor, and Mr. Parker was unanimously elected.

All committees rendered their annual reports and the same were ordered placed on file.

Executive and House Committee
The report of the executive and house committee was, in part, as follows:

Patients admitted, 1270; daily average, 50; births, 116; deaths, 85; operations, 432.

The training school for nurses, now resulting three full years of theory and practice, is in a highly prosperous condition. We are sometimes inclined to place a somewhat restricted interpretation upon the work of these nurses. To be sure, their work at the hospital is necessary to the proper care of the patients, and it would be quite impossible to conduct a hospital without their aid. But it must be kept in mind that this training received at the hospital is only a part of a college life into which these young women have entered for serious study. We sometimes forget that our nurses attend regular lectures and recitations and have complete courses of hard study all carefully laid out for them by the faculty of most competent teachers. Many of these nurses after graduation remain right here in our own city; where they are to contribute, to no small degree, to the comforts and recovery of the sick. Therefore, we feel that any city is to be congratulated that has such a modern and progressive school in its midst as our own training school for nurses.

About one half of all the work of the hospital is of a charitable nature. The hospital never receives the slightest aid from the city. All obligations of every kind must be paid from revenues derived from two sources: From patients and from the income of invested funds. The "high cost of living" applies to hospitals as well as to private homes, and so it is true that our expenses have increased in much greater ratio than our income. We must have a more generous endowment if the charitable work of the hospital is to be continued and if the high standard of all the departments be maintained. We again ask all friends of the hospital to thoroughly and seriously consider this charitable institution when arranging for the final disposition of their estates. All gifts and bequests are carefully and safely invested, and only the income from the same is used. Indeed, it has been voted that "any gift of $50 or over must be added to the endowment fund, unless otherwise specified by the donor."

The nine thousand dollars given two years ago by Mr. Frederick Fanning Ayer, of New York City, was expended in rearranging and painting the nurses' home and in the addition of twelve rooms, with furnishings; in erecting a shelter for the doctors' horses and automobiles; and moving and enlarging the barn and building an addition to the same; in preparing and furnishing detention rooms; in repainting and painting the third floor of the Fellows building; and in furnishing new bath-rooms. This work was completed only last fall.

The recent gift from Mr. Ayer of $5000 will enable the trustees to paint all the buildings, outside and in, with the exception of those painted last year. Also to build a wall from the further entrance of the grounds, up the hill to the Fellows building. Also a waiting room or shelter at this entrance of the grounds. This gift also makes it possible to procure the very latest X-ray machine. Mr. Ayer gave us one of these machines only a few years ago, but modern improvements have made this new machine necessary. If the hospital is to be provided with the most modern methods of treating disease.

The tuberculosis camp had a very successful season last year and everything points to an equally successful time for the present year. The camp will open just as soon as we have one or two days of warm sunshine. The expenses of the camp, calling for $5000 a year, are met by an annual gift from Mr. F. F. Ayer.

FUNERALS

BUCKLEY—The funeral of Edmund Buckley, who died in Worcester, took place yesterday afternoon from the Baptist church in North Haverhill, Rev. C. H. Williams officiated and the bearers were John Stett, James Whitte, Samuel Lord and John Powell. Burial was in the North cemetery, in charge of Undertaker C. M. Young.

O'DEA—All that was mortal of the late Lawrence O'Dea was tenderly consigned to the final resting place in the Catholic cemetery this morning. The lengthy cortege left the house of mourning, No. 68 Church street, at 8.30 o'clock and wended its way to St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. W. George Mullin. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly, sang the Gregorian mass; the solos being sustained by Miss Gertrude E. Keleher and Mr. Donnelly. As the casket was being borne from the church "In Paradisum" was sung by the choir. Mrs. John W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. William Lord, Peter Callery, James O'Dea, Thomas O'Dea, Thomas Donahue and Patrick O'Dea. Among the many beautiful floral tributes, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held, were: A pillow of roses and pinks with the inscription "Husband and Father," from the bereaved family; large wreath of pinks and roses from Mr. and Mrs. John P. Quinn and family; wreath of roses, sympathy of Miss Sarah V. Feeney; wreath of asters from Miss Anna M. Feeney; wreath of roses and pinks, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Gardner and family; large basket of pinks and lilies, sympathy of Miss K. F. Morrison and niece Katherine and Helen Donovan; large wreath of asters, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. John Flavel; spray of pinks from Mr. Walter Sanborn; large spray of lilies, sympathy of Mr. Thomas E. O'Day; large wreath of roses on base from Lowell Auto company; wreath of roses and pinks, sympathy of Post Office employees; large standing cross on base, from Lowell Chauffeurs' Federation; spray of pinks from teachers and classmates of the Colburn grammar school; wreath of galax leaves and roses, sympathy of Mr. William Collins; spray of wheat, sympathy of Mr. James O'Day; large sheaf of wheat with pinks, sympathy of Mr. Peter Flood; large wreath of carnations and tulips, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore; large wreath of pinks and roses, from Mr. John McNamara; spray of roses, sympathy of Mr. John Moore; spray of pinks, from the Misses Mary and Gertrude Baffet; spray, sympathy of the Drina family; spray of pinks, from Mr. and Mrs. Porter; spray of lilies from Miss Albina Fourgault; spray of pinks, Miss Helen Webster, also many other wreaths and sprays from other friends.

The funeral was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends including many from out of town. The interment took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the last sad rites of the Catholic church were recited by Rev. W. George Mullin. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker James H. McDermott.

VESBY—With impressive services held at the Immaculate Conception church this morning the remains of Mr. Patrick J. Vesby were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery. The obsequies were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends of deceased, who was widely known. On all sides were apparent the sorrow for the deceased and sympathy for the bereaved family. This was notable in the large cortege that left the house, 583 East Merrimack street, at 8.30 o'clock. A high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Walker rendered the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Mr. Edward Shea and Mr. Charles P. Smith. The bearers were: Michael McNamara, P. J. Burns, Edward Cahill, John Flanagan, James Dolan and Jeremiah Coughlin. Present at the funeral were the following delegations: Messrs. James E. Charnan, Michael J. Sullivan

Pretty Affair Was Conducted in O. U. A. M. Hall

MISS ETHEL G. SHARROW, Manager.

One of the prettiest dancing parties of the season was held in O. U. A. M. hall last evening. The affair was the annual assembly of the Rosemaids.

popular young ladies of St. Peter's parish and the manner in which the ladies conducted the affair was very praiseworthy. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Streamers of pink and green were alternately suspended from the centre of the hall to the corners. The stage was decked with potted plants and ferns, the latter completely hiding the members of Miner's orchestra. The first part of the program was given over to a concert by the orchestra, which started shortly after eight o'clock and continued until 8.30. The first waltz was then started and a large number participated, demonstrating the wide popularity of the young ladies.

Dancing was continued till 10.30 o'clock when intermission was held and refreshments served. After the ball dancing was resumed and the real fun started. Several feature numbers were introduced. The "assembly" was one of the most enjoyable, and not only to the participants but the spectators as well. In this number at intervals, the orchestra leader announced "change partners." After a little shuffle all were dancing with different people. The number was greatly enjoyed and was encored several times. A "Ladies' choice" in which the fair sex did the asking, was another feature. "Moonlight Waltz" proved a banner number. While this dance was in progress the lights were turned low and the different colored incandescents, produced a very striking effect.

The other numbers on the order were also greatly enjoyed. The floor was in excellent shape, the music by Miner's orchestra was irresistible and those present were in the mood to enjoy every minute of the entire evening, and this they did, most successfully.

The souvenir dance order, was of a very beautiful design. On the cover, which was of white, was the inscription in gold letters "Rosemaids." Everything in connection with the party was conducted on an elaborate scale and at the close of the affair at midnight all congratulated the two young

The police court session was rather brief this morning compared with yesterday's session. Judge Pickman occupied the bench and he disposed of the few cases in short time.

Napoleon Charost, who was arrested a few days ago for drunkenness, was arraigned in court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty. However, after hearing the testimony of the arresting officers, the court found the defendant guilty and ordered him committed to the common jail for a term of 40 days from which he appealed. He was held in the sum of $200 for the superior court.

John J. Molloy, who admitted his guilt to the complaint charging him with drunkenness, was sentenced to six months to the common jail. Dennis Curtin was given 30 days for the same offense, while James O'Hearn, David Hudson and Nellie Kelley, all second offenders were fined $5 each. Three first offenders were fined $2 each.

The case of Christos Prassas who was arrested a few days ago at the corner of Merrimack and Dalton streets for alleged intimidation, was again continued till tomorrow. Prassas who is one of the strikers at the Merrimack mill, was arrested on a warrant charging him with intimidation. It is alleged that one night last week he did house to house picketing and one of his countrymen who feared bodily harm swore out a warrant for his arrest. Prassas was arrested at the corner of Merrimack and Dalton streets, and his arrest almost caused a riot, for the other members of the picket line made a rush for the officers and their prisoner.

The day previous to his arrest Prassas was arraigned in court and fined for assault and battery on two counts. He paid his fine and immediately returned to the picket line.

DENT, TRUST FUND MAY BE GIVEN TO CHARITABLE INSTITUTION

It was about twelve years ago that little Arthur Dent disappeared from his home on the Lawrence corporation and no trace has been found and not a word has been heard from him since. Arthur was a bright little lad and a general favorite. He was last seen playing near the canal and at first it was believed that he had been drowned but when the water was let out of the canal there was no sign of the body. A woman, who was said to be a gypsy, was seen about Arthur's home during the day and it was said that she seemed to be watching him and it was believed that she had kidnapped him. A goodly sum of money was raised by popular subscription and a reward was offered for the recovery of the boy, dead or alive. Private detectives were employed and trance mediums consulted, but to no avail and Arthur is still among the missing.

The fund collected and offered as a reward for his recovery was deposited in one of the local savings banks and trustees were appointed. It is said that the fund amounts to about $1500, interest included, and a meeting of the trustees for the purpose of disposing of the fund will be held this evening. It was stated today that the fund would probably be given to some charitable institution.

BANDIT KING KILLED WHILE FIGHTING POLICE

French Police Had to Blow up the Bandits' Lair Near Paris—Five Policemen Wounded

PARIS, May 15.—The career of the last of France's notorious bandit king was dramatically ended this morning, when, after an eight hours' battle with police and troops, his leader, Octavo Garnier, and his confederate, Vallet, were conquered by the use of high explosives in a small villa at Nogent-sur-Marne, where they had taken refuge. Shattered by dynamite, their stronghold fell in ruins when masonry was exploded under its walls. The police found Garnier dead and Vallet dying. Five policemen were wounded in the battle.

The explosion left a yawning opening in the villa, through which police dogs sprang, while the police and troops sent valley after valley into the ruins.

Unhappily, some of the bullets rebounded from the bricks, while others emerged on the opposite side, so that two policemen were wounded. Then an armed force holding torches rushed into the ruins and discovered the two bandits. Garnier was naked, save for a few tattered rags. He appeared to be dead. Vallet was dead or dying. The crowd of spectators, wildly enraged, rushed up and tried to seize the bandits, but with great difficulty the police drove them back. Automobiles were backed up and the bandits placed in them, when the crowd again attempted to tear them from the troops. Hundreds also surrounded the prefect of police, and with cries of "Vive Lepine" tried to carry him off in triumph. Several thousand police, gendarmes and zouaves, tried for hours to shoot the bandits or destroy the building with explosives. Three policemen fell from the desperadoes' bullets, but though the villa was badly damaged by dynamite, the bandits showed no signs of surrendering.

Garnier made his last stand in a house hidden by foliage and surrounded closely by other buildings, making an assault very difficult. He was driven to bay following his mistake in trying to negotiate stolen securities at a branch of a big banking house, whereby he and his companions, Vallet and the woman Vullemin were tracked to Nogent. All three, who were declared blondes, dyed their hair jet black.

An indiscretion by the woman today enabled the police to fix their hair to a certainty. She went to a public pump to get drinking water, where she was met by a Parisian woman, Vullemin, who is of Basque origin, carried the jug of water on her shoulder, after the custom of the country. The Parisian noticed the fact and gave the alarm.

When the police arrived at the villa, which was known as the Maufin Rouge, M. Guichard, superintendent of detectives, carrying the tri-color sash of his office, cried:

"Open in the name of the law."

A man hidden in the garden responded with revolver fire. This formally began the battle and siege.

M. Guichard was not hit and retreated. He mobilized the detectives, police and gendarmes, who carried rifles, while a company of zouaves from the nearby barracks joined the forces. An enormous crowd hindered operations, however, and had to be driven back.

Six inspectors, protected by sheets of steel furnished by a gunsmith, cautiously approached the house. They encountered a murderous fire, but were not wounded. Three of the police, however, fell seriously wounded.

In the meantime the police and spec-tailors who had gathered on the viaduct of the Eastern railroad heaved enormous rocks on top of the roof of the house. Soon the roof was wrecked and fell in, but the bandits continued firing. Then the woman companion of Garnier emerged and was arrested.

When M. Lepine, the prefect of police, arrived he immediately assumed command, and finally decided, as he did in the case of Bonnot and Dubois at Choleys-le-Rol, to blow up the bandits' lair. The attempt was made with dynamite, but failed, and M. Lepine narrowly escaped being wounded by the bandits for his pains.

WHY DON'T YOU HELP THAT WEAK, SICK STOMACH OF YOURS?

Why Go Through Life Afraid to Eat Just What You Desire and Enjoy?

Just use Stomach-Rite tablets and begin to take some comfort. I earnestly believe that if your stomach is affected the liver is also. Stomach-Rite treats the stomach and liver at the same time and I think that is the strongest reason why Stomach-Rite cures when others fail—it eliminates the trouble—overcoming indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, sour stomach, heartburn and last but not least, constipation. Thousands have testified to the remarkable curative qualities of Stomach-Rite and one box will quickly prove to you that it is the supreme stomach and liver medicine. As pleasant to eat as candy, Stomach-Rite tablets relieve your suffering at once—you feel better after the first tablet. Stomach disorders cause many serious complications and should be promptly attended to. Don't let your trouble run on into something serious and incurable. Enjoy your meals by obtaining a box of Stomach-Rite and begin to use the tablets at once, that your stomach may gain strength and digest your food. Not a patent medicine, but made from a prescription of the late Dr. John Wilbur, Westbury, R. I. Refuse substitutes by seeing that his picture is on your box. DOWS, The Druggist, Cor. Merrimack and Central Streets, Agents for Lowell.

Timothy Hanrahan, Boston; William F. Thornton, Lowell, and Peter F. Hanley, Boston.

State Deputy O'Brien opened the convention and made his final report. He said an increase of nearly 2200 members has been attained, being the largest of any year since the order was instituted in this state.

State Secretary Watson gave his report, confirming statistics given by the state deputy. Chaplain McCarthy urged the development of a true Catholic spirit among the council members. He suggested an annual memorial for the dead.

The convention was closed at 8 o'clock last night, after recommendations and suggestions were made to be carried to the national convention by the delegates elected. The 20th annual state convention will be in Springfield, May 13, 1913.

BROWN DENIES

THAT HE IS NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH EXPERT'S REPORT

Speaking of the report of the expert accountant who went over the financial books of the city, today, Commissioner Brown said: "The impression seems to have gone out that I am not in sympathy with the report of Mr. Rex, the expert accountant. Now that is not a correct impression. I am not opposed to the report as a whole. The only matter I want cleared up has to do with the deficit in the general treasury. I asked how much is the deficit and my question remains unanswered."

CANAL BRIDGE

WORK ON IT WILL BE STARTED SATURDAY NIGHT

George H. Brown, commissioner of streets and highways, announced today that he would begin work on the reconstruction of the bridge across the canal in Market street next Saturday night. He has notified the shunters to have the way cleared by May 24 and he intends to push the work through as rapidly as possible. The bridge will be closed to teams and a foot-bridge for the accommodation of pedestrians will be constructed. The north side of the bridge was pronounced unsafe and was closed a few days ago.

STRIKERS QUIET

NO TROUBLE IN VICINITY OF MERRIMACK MILLS

Contrary to yesterday, the strikers of the Merrimack mill were very quiet today. This morning a large number of picketers were on duty, but they were not as numerous as they have been since the strike broke out. They marched up and down the sidewalk in Moody street, but no trouble of any kind was reported. The banners which were usually carried in the parade as well as the American flag were not in evidence. The strikers marched in twos on the sidewalk and were very peaceful. They did not shout as was their custom, but simply went along and occasionally spoke to some who were going to work. The same thing was repeated at noon, and although several officers were on hand, their services were not required.

LICENSE BOARD

TOOK ACTION ON A NUMBER OF MINOR LICENSES

At the regular meeting of the license board, held last night, considerable routine business was transacted. Manuel Sousa, made application for a license to sell ice cream, fruit and confectionery on the Lord's day. Patrolman Keefe appeared before the board and stated that the applicant was not conducting the business and he was granted leave to withdraw. The minor licenses granted were as follows:

BREEN FOUND GUILTY IN DYNAMITE CASE

Charged With Intent to Injure Strikers

SALEM, May 15.—J. J. Breen, a member of the school committee of Lawrence, was found guilty of one of the three counts of the indictment in which he was charged with planting dynamite during the recent textile strike in that city by a jury in the Essex county superior court here today. Sentence was deferred. The count on which Breen was found guilty charged that he intended to injure the strikers in the conduct of their strike. The second and third counts, upon which he was found not guilty, alleged that he intended to injure the persons upon whose property the dynamite was found. The dynamite was found in a cobbler shop, in a tailor shop and in a cemetery on January 19th.

BUTLER STATUE

BILL WAS PASSED BY THE HOUSE TODAY

The bill to erect a statue to the memory of the late General Butler was passed by the lower branch of the state legislature today by a vote of 110 to 108. Senator Barlow is making a great fight for the measure and says he feels pretty sure it will go through the senate.

FUNERALS

RACICOT—After impressive services at Notre Dame de Lourdes church, the remains of one of the best known and most highly respected residents of this city, Mrs. H. A. Racicot nee Emile Joubert, were tenderly consigned to their last resting place in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. The funeral was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends of deceased who deemed it their duty to pay a last tribute to one whom they cherished and loved. The long cortege left the late home of deceased, 317 Middlesex street at 9:15 o'clock, and moved to Notre Dame de Lourdes church where solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of her soul. The church was filled with people among them being a large delegation of St. Anne's sodality and of the Third Order of St. Francis of which deceased was a prominent member.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I. pastor, who was assisted by Rev. Fr. Lagard, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. J. B. Barette, O. M. I., as sub deacon. The choir which had been augmented by a large number of singers from the other French church choirs rendered Perreault's harmonized mass under the direction of Mr. Frank Gourdeau, the solos of the mass being sustained by Messrs. Olier J. David, Dr. George E. Gasse, Theophile Brasseur, E. J. Laroche and Frank Gourdeau. At the offertory Mrs. J. E. Robillard sang Leysbach's "Pie Jesu," in a most sympathetic way, while at the communion Rosewell's "O Meritum Passionis" was sung in charming manner by Miss Irene W. Parthenais. As the body was being borne from the church the choir rendered "De Profundis," Miss Anna Alexander presiding at the organ.

The bearers were Messrs. William Parthenais, Pierre A. Brousseau, Exaudias Dupont, Camille Roussin, Louis P. Turcotte and M. Piche. The delegation from St. Anne's sodality which went to the cemetery was composed of the following: Mesdames P. X. Hostaler, J. Sansoucy, S. Renaud, A. Lemire and M. Piche. Among the many floral tributes were the following: Crescent of roses and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Gregoire; spray, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Desmarais; spray, the Misses Maria and Regina Cognac; spray, Mrs. Free and family; spray, Mrs. Roberts; spray, Mrs. McInnis; wreath of 73 roses representing age of deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Racicot of Malden; spray, Mrs. Blason of Baltic, Conn.; large pillow inscribed "Mother," daughters of deceased, as well as a large spiritual bouquet from the members of St. Anne's sodality.

Among the out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were the following: Mr. Oliva Chagnon, son-in-law of deceased of St. Jean, Que.; Mrs. Alexandre Normandin, daughter of de-

BARRETT HOT AFTER CITY TREASURER

The Alderman Says That
He Will Prefer
Charges

At last night's meeting of the municipal council Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett moved that the board proceed to the election of a successor to Andrew G. Stiles, treasurer and collector of taxes. Mayor O'Donnell called the commissioner's attention to that section of the new charter which states that charges must be brought in writing against a city official before he can be removed. Later on Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be suspended pending a hearing and Commissioner Brown seconded the motion with the understanding that the city treasurer would be given all the opportunity necessary to defend himself. Mayor O'Donnell, however, on the question of procedure, ruled Mr. Barrett out of order. The latter appealed from the ruling of the chair and the ruling was sustained by a vote of two to two, the mayor declining to vote. Mr. Barrett said it was not his desire to embarrass any member of the council and he said he would submit his charges in writing at the next meeting.

ALDERMAN BARRETT

Mr. Barrett had stated at a meeting held yesterday afternoon that he would make a motion at last night's meeting for the election of a successor to Mr. Stiles. The report of the afternoon meeting appeared in The Sun and all seats were taken in the gallery and on the floor when Mayor O'Donnell called to order shortly before eight o'clock last night.

The most important financial business of the evening had to do with the petition to the legislature for permission to borrow $700,000 and it was finally voted, after hearing from Commissioner Donnelly and City Solicitor Hennessy, who had consulted with Charles F. Gettemy, head of the bureau of statistics, to authorize the city solicitor to draw up a new petition in accordance with the suggestions offered by Mr. Gettemy, which was to make two loans of $350,000 each as herein-after stated.

The meeting was in session more than two hours before any very big matters were touched upon, a great deal of time being given over to discussion having to do with city work in general and there was a big raft of petitions to dispose of.

Leave to withdraw was reported on the petition for a pole location on June street.

An order granting the Lowell Gas Light company permission to erect six poles in Middlesex street for a "Great White Way" demonstration, at the expense of the company, was adopted.

An order to borrow $18,350 and to appropriate the same for macadamizing streets, the money to be paid in five equal annual payments, came up for action.

Mr. Brown moved that the order be adopted. Mr. Barrett wanted to know what streets are to be macadamized and Mr. Brown said the streets considered are: Pine, Westford, Porter, Swift, Moody, Suffolk, Cabot, Stackpole and North streets and Fort Hill avenue.

Mr. Barrett asked if money had been appropriated for Stackpole street last year and was informed that it had been. Mr. Kearney, engineer, said the $5391 appropriated last year was to be for work on Stackpole, West, Oils, Mansur, Smith and Summit streets and Knapp and Lilly avenue.

Mr. Barrett moved that the amount of money spent on Knapp avenue last year be reported by the auditor at the next meeting. It was so voted. He further moved that all moneys appropriated in 1911 for streets, which were for the same purpose, be spent this year for the same purpose. Voted.

Mr. Brown said that there isn't enough money left over to do all of the streets named.

The question of adopting the macadamizing order for $18,350 came up for final action.

Mr. Barrett wished to know how much it cost per yard to macadamize last year. Mr. Kearney didn't know, and said the records might be in the street department office. Mr. Brown said Mr. Barrett was chairman of the streets committee last year, and should know.

The $18,350 order was then adopted. A petition from West Centralville residents, asking for the enlargement of the Greenhalge school was read and it was voted to hold a hearing at the school next Monday evening.

A bill for $22.50 for flowers sent to city hall on inauguration day was before the council. Mr. Cummings said he didn't know who had ordered the flowers and thought the bill should be looked into. Mr. Barrett moved that the bill be paid out of the fund of the commissioner of public buildings. It was so voted.

Hearings on petitions for electric lights at the corner of Stafford and Mansfield streets, and at the corner of Stafford and North streets were in order. Edward W. Trull, one of the petitioners, said that two new houses have recently been erected in the vicinity. The petitions were granted.

George E. Putnam petitioned for the right to keep and store gasoline, and a hearing was slated for June 4, at 2 p. m.

A hearing on petition of Marcel Hebert, for an electric light between 211 and 243 Lincoln street was opened. Dr. Wesley Sawyer favored the petition, as did Mr. Parry. No remembrance. The petition was granted.

An order granting permission to the Lowell Shuttle Co. to attach its fixtures and wires to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Co. in Tanner street, was adopted.

Other orders adopted were: Lowell Electric Light Co. to attach fixtures to poles of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co. on Westford near Grand street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles at the corner of Marginal and Wilder streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles at the corner of Norcross and Chelmsford streets; Lowell Electric Light Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles on West Adams street; Lowell Electric Light Co. to attach wires, etc., to poles of the Commercial Union Tel. Co. on Pine street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to make additional attachments to its own poles on Chelmsford street; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to its own poles on Twelfth and Bridge streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to attach wires, etc., to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Co. on Plain street, between Chelmsford and Parker streets; New England Tel. & Tel. Co. to make attachments on Oaklands street; Lowell Electric Light Co. to make attachments to poles on Gorham street, opposite Lincoln street.

An order to borrow $72,750 to be paid in twenty annual payments for the paving of certain streets with grouted granite blocks on a granite base was next in order for action. The streets to be paved, in portions are Church, Gorham, Pawtucket, East Merrimack, Aiken, and Lawrence streets.

Mr. Brown said he would first do East Merrimack street, and would then do Church street. After that would come Pawtucket street.

Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be authorized to borrow from time to time an amount not to exceed $72,750 to pave the streets named, the auditor to inform him when amounts are needed. Mr. O'Donnell did not consider the motion a legal one.

Mr. Barrett then moved the amount be borrowed in three equal amounts. Mr. Brown seconded. Mayor O'Donnell said that the order, thus acted upon, would become a new order, and that the old formula would have to be gone through with. Mr. Barrett said work need not be delayed; that it might be started in anticipation of the money being borrowed.

The engineer changed the reading of the order to $300, to borrow $72,750, in three equal parts, to be paid in 20 equal annual payments, was presented to the council. The city clerk was instructed to give the customary notice.

An order to lay a sewer in Saratoga street, a distance of 110 feet, at a cost of $202, the assessment on abutters being $30, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Mt. Grove street, a distance of 272 feet, at a cost of $535, assessment being $125, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Riverside street, a distance of 1005 feet, at a cost of $2190, assessment being $1600, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in West Sixth street, a distance of 190 feet, at a cost of $309, assessment being $240, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Tenth street, a distance of 517 feet, at a cost of $1551, assessment being $700, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Mt. Hope street, a distance of 50 feet, at a cost of $316, assessment being $30, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Winthrop avenue, a distance of 210 feet, at a cost of $615, assessment being $225, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Plain street, a distance of 202 feet, at a cost of $439, assessment being $210, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Troy street, a distance of 355 feet, at a cost of $1251, assessment being $425, was adopted.

An order to lay a sewer in Caroline street and Boissier avenue, a distance of 405 feet, at a cost of $1313, assessment being $550, was allowed to remain tabled.

Mr. Brown moved that $8000 be appropriated for the building of the Market street bridge. About $3000 was left over for this work from last year, he said. He said he would bring in a cash order for $4000 for bridge work at the next meeting. Mr. Brown's recommendation was not seconded.

It was agreed that Mr. Brown should draft an order for the rebuilding of the Market street bridge, and to bring it before the council at the next meeting.

The ordinance formed by the city solicitor regulating the traffic rules of the city was enrolled.

Must Give Reason

At 10:37 o'clock Alderman Barrett moved that the council proceed to the election of a successor to Andrew G. Stiles, city treasurer and collector of taxes. Mayor O'Donnell called the treasurer's attention to section 40 of the charter as amended. The section says that the municipal council shall have the power under the laws regulating civil service to suspend or remove any executive or administrative officer or head of a sub-department if he has the power to appoint, for such cause as it shall deem sufficient, but the section requires that the municipal council shall set forth in the order of suspension or removal its reasons therefor.

"Supposing I should say that the cause was for allowing $40,000 to be spent for purposes other than that for which it was appropriated?" said Mr. Barrett.

"It would be only fair that such an official should be given due notice of the action to be taken, in order that he might have an opportunity to be heard," said City Solicitor Hennessy.

"Suppose some member of this council had committed a criminal act. I don't say that one has or ever will, but just for the sake of argument, would it be necessary to make charges in writing?" asked Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Hennessy allowed that it would.

"What are the duties of the city treasurer?" asked Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Hennessy went to his office for the rules governing the position, and, at 10:45 o'clock a recess of five minutes was taken. Upon resuming the session Mr. Hennessy read from statutes to the effect that a "treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties, receive and take charge of all moneys belonging to the city, and shall pay over on account for same, and shall annually render a true account of receipts and disbursements."

Mr. Barrett moved that the city treasurer be suspended in accordance with the foregoing section. The motion was not seconded.

"What are you trying to make out—are you insinuating that the treasurer stole the money, or what is back of this anyway?" asked Ald. Brown.

"I simply mean to say that after the expert accountant showed that the $40,000 existed in none other than the city treasurer's hands, resigned at once, and no action of mine or yours should have been necessary," replied Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Brown asked if the city treasurer was to be given a chance to explain the Huntington hall money and receive ing a reply in the affirmative from Mr. Barrett, said he would second the motion.

Alderman Brown asked the city solicitor if there is a difference between "appointment" and "election," as applied to an official.

Mr. Hennessy said that all administrative offices of this government are elected; none is appointed. The phrases are used interchangeably in the statutes. In section 37 of the amended charter, the word "elected" appears. He considered them synonymous terms. He then went on to explain the application of civil service laws relative to the discharge of an official.

Mr. Brown quoted the phrase "for such cause as shall be deemed sufficient," and wanted to know what that meant.

"He shall annually render a true account of all receipts and disbursements, and a record of his official acts; that is why," said Mr. Barrett.

"This is a question of procedure," said the mayor.

"Then you rule my motion out of order?"

"Yes."

"Then I appeal from the decision." On a yeas and nays vote, Messrs. Barrett and Brown voted not to sustain the presiding officer; Messrs. Cummings and Donnelly voted to sustain. The mayor did not vote. Mr. Barrett at once said he did not wish to embarrass members of the council, and so withdrew his motion.

Mr. Donnelly said that he and Solicitor Hennessy had spent the greater part of Monday with Mr. Gettemy of the bureau of statistics. Again on Tuesday time was spent with him, and the matter of going to the legislature to ask permission to borrow $700,000 to wipe out the city's debt was discussed. Mr. Donnelly asked the solicitor to explain the result of the conference.

Mr. Hennessy said Mr. Gettemy seemed very well acquainted with the city's finances, with the exception of the Huntington hall matter. He wished to know what would be done with the $40,000 uncollected taxes, due January 1. He said the legislature would never think of granting such permission with such funds available.

However, if $350,000 were asked for, payable in 10 years, with funded rates issued against it, it might be possible to get permission from the legislature. With regard to the remaining $350,000, to be borrowed on a two-year term, and create a sinking fund to pay it, to be paid out of the taxes of 1911, Mr. Gettemy felt the situation might be relieved here. He felt it the only thing the legislature can do, and asked that the plan be presented to the municipal council.

On July 1st the city must meet $700,000, he said. There are two ways: One to borrow $700,000, to which plan the legislature will not agree. Mr. Gettemy felt that if the money is borrowed on a 20-year loan, to be paid by the sinking of taxation, there will remain $430,000, which will prove a temptation to the council to go ahead and spend part of it without having the wherewithal to pay back the sums borrowed.

Mr. Hennessy dilated upon the plan in vogue in Springfield, where taxes are raised in very clean.

Mr. Barrett said there is a very great difference between Lowell and Springfield.

"What method can you devise to show how we can pay $350,000 in two years, where we haven't been able to pay a dollar on the temporary loan?" asked Mr. Barrett.

"We have $410,000 of uncollected taxes as a working asset. In July we will have $80,000 due for 1910 taxes, in that month $200,000 will fall due."

"The explanation is very good, in theory," said Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Hennessy said that public consequence would have to come to the assistance of the government. "There isn't a city in the commonwealth but has been doing business on borrowed money," he continued.

"We did business on money that wasn't borrowed; we did business on fire insurance money," said Mr. Barrett.

"Every dollar we spend this year should be taken out of this year's tax levy," said the mayor.

"Precisely."

The mayor suggested that action be taken in accordance with the suggestions offered by Mr. Gettemy.

The original bill, to ask permission to borrow $700,000, was withdrawn, and in its place was substituted the following bill, which was voted by the city solicitor shall enter before the committee on rules of the legislature at the earliest possible moment.

To authorize the city of Lowell to fund a certain portion of its indebtedness.

Section 1—The city of Lowell, by vote of two-thirds of the members of the municipal council taken by yeas and nays, is authorized to incur indebtedness to an amount not to exceed three hundred and fifty thousand dollars to be borrowed outside the limit of indebtedness fixed by law, and to issue notes or bonds therefor bearing interest at a rate not to exceed four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the same to be denominated their face, "City of Lowell Funding Loan, 1912," and the proceeds of which shall be applied exclusively to the cancellation and extinction of certain indebtedness represented by notes issued in anticipation of taxes on or before January first, nineteen hundred and twelve.

Section 2—The indebtedness incurred under this act shall be paid in such proportionate or other annual payments as will extinguish the same within 10 years after the date of issue of the first note or bond issued in accordance herewith, and so that the amount of such annual payment in any year and the whole interest of such debt, so far as issued, payable in the same year shall not together be less than the aggregate amount of principal and interest payable in any subsequent year, and thereupon such annual amount shall, without further vote, be assessed under the provisions of section thirty-seven, part one, chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and nine, unless such debt is extinguished.

Section 3—The city of Lowell is also authorized to extend any portion of the tax loans issued prior to January 1, 1912, and now outstanding, not otherwise funded in accordance with the provisions of this act, for a period not to exceed two years, and all collections on account of the taxes assessed in the year 1911, made subsequent to January 1, 1912, shall be set aside as a fund and shall be applied to the payment of said tax loans not funded in pursuance to section one of this act and to no other purpose until all of said tax loans shall have been paid.

Section 4—None of said money shall be paid out except on the certificate of the city solicitor of said city that it is for the purposes provided in the foregoing section.

Section 5—This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Adjourned at 11:45.

ANTI-INJUNCTION BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Little Opposition to the Labor Measure is Likely to Develop in the Senate

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Supported by all of the progressive republicans the house last night passed the Clayton anti-injunction bill, 241 to 51. Every democrat present voted for it, and the result was announced to the accompaniment of a remarkable demonstration. The legislation is regarded as one of the most advanced steps yet taken in the interests of organized labor.

Throughout the debate Pres. Campers, Sec. Morrison and a half dozen members of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor were interested listeners. They occupied a front row in the members' gallery.

The opposition to the measure discovered to put through a substitute drawn by Representative Sterling of Illinois. This modified the sweeping terms of the Clayton bill, but it was defeated, 215 to 14. It was generally said that the Clayton measure would meet with little opposition in the senate.

The bill amends the law to prohibit the issue of injunctions without notice being served on those affected. Such injunctions would be effective for seven days only, and renewal would be possible only when the court was convinced such action was necessary for the conservation of rights of property.

"John Doe" injunctions would be impossible and the rights of "peaceful picketing" in strikes or "peaceful boycotts" would be recognized.

FERRIS TRIAL RESUMED

for $20.75 and that there was a profit of $1.15 on each book. She testified relative to the manner in which she kept her accounts while in Mr. Kelly's employ.

Miss Faneuf was asked if she had any conversation with any person relative to the trial. She said she did not know that she was to be a witness in the case until last Saturday afternoon when District Attorney Higgins called at her house.

Thomas H. Kelley

Thomas H. Kelley, auctioneer and real estate dealer, with an office in Paige street, was the next witness called. He testified that for a number of years he conducted a store at 232 Middlesex street where he loaned railroad tickets and dealt in general merchandise.

Mr. Kelley said that Mr. Shaw had purchased small parts of a trip book—say 14 rides—at different times; he also hired books and returned the books and always paid when the book was returned, but at times Mr. Shaw had in advance. Questioned as to how Mr. Shaw paid, the witness said: "He paid me in money."

Mr. Kelley said that when he was selling tickets he kept a duplicate ticket which showed the number of tickets in the book and when the book was returned he could tell by comparison how many tickets were used.

Witness was queried relative to his business as a ticket broker and he said that he inaugurated the business of loaning or hiring railroad tickets in Lowell.

He testified that he had loaned tickets to Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and one of the daughters.

On cross-examination Mr. Kelley said that he had loaned a number of people out of jail and as a general rule he received compensation, but in many instances he received no fee.

Mr. Kelley testified that he had loaned an account of the trial (the Jackson Palmer case) but did not know that he was to be a witness in the present case until the district attorney notified him last Saturday in Lowell.

Henry W. O'Brien

Henry W. O'Brien, who conducts a ticket office and newstand in the Richardson hotel, was the next witness called. Witness explained the manner in which he transacted business relative to the loaning of trip books, and produced trip books and duplicates.

Witness said that Mr. Shaw never loaned a 50-ride Boston & Lowell trip book from him, but that Mrs. Shaw and her three daughters had called for books.

Jail Officer's Story

Olat Atkinson, an officer at the Lowell jail, was the next witness called. He said that he went to work at the jail on March 27, 1912, and knew Mr. Ferris and also told of a conversation which Mr. Ferris had with him before Mr. Ferris was relieved of duty at the jail.

On cross-examination the witness said that he had heard rumors that Ferris was going to bring charges against the officers at the Lowell jail. He said he appeared before the grand jury during the course of the investigation of the so-called "county ring," but admitted that he did not tell the grand jury that Ferris had made any threats against Mr. Shaw.

Witness said that Ferris told him that he (Ferris) said he was going to get square with Harry Shaw. This statement was made when the defendant was leaving the jail, according to

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 15.—Some substantial gains were made in the opening dealings on the stock exchange today. Lehigh Valley advanced a full point with gains of as much and more for Canadian Pacific International Harvester, American Sugar and International Paper. Reading failed to follow Lehigh Valley's rise, soon reacting to its slight advance. United States Steel on moderate dealings gained a fraction. Elsewhere gains were confined to less important stocks. American Can, lost one point. A feature was the sharp rise in the foremost subsidiaries of the American Tobacco Co.

Prices fell back generally in the first half hour, the movement suggesting further profit-taking under cover of the rise in the specialties. Following a brief period of dullness in which feeble rallies were attempted another wave of movement sent prices lower than before and at 11 o'clock the undertone was weak.

Signs of liquidation by traders and other professionals whose operations made possible the market of the past two months was clearly evident today. More than likely the selling began some time ago but today's indications were unmistakable. Various theories and conjectures, involving politics, labor unrest and industrial conditions, were advanced to account for today's reaction which opened with a feeble upward movement and flattened out immediately afterwards. Before mid-day Reading, Lehigh Valley, American Can, and several other stocks which have been most prominent lost all their early rise and were quoted under yesterday's worst prices.

Traders who sold the coalers short in the morning were given severe rebuke soon after midday when the prices of Reading and Lehigh Valley were marked up materially on reports from the coal fields that the outlook was good for an early settlement of the labor troubles. Can. Pac. added several more points to its recent sensational rise, the price touching 28 1/2.

The market closed under a further bid up of the low priced industrials while standard shares were selling on a parity with or under yesterday's final quotations.

HOGAN'S ELECTION IS QUESTIONED

Four Principal Assessors Were on Duty at City Hall This Morning

C. Arthur Abbott Claims That He Still Holds Office—He Says That the Municipal Council Acted Illegally

Four assessors of taxes reported for duty at city hall this morning and that it is sufficiently unusual as to be mentioned as a matter of news. And a little story, too, goes with the appearance of the four assessors.

A few days ago the municipal council elected Daniel E. Hogan assessor of taxes and it was supposed that he was elected to succeed C. Arthur Abbott but now there seems to be some question about it.

Mr. Hogan qualified for and took office on Monday. Mr. Abbott reported for duty this morning and told his brother assessors and the secretary of the board that he was ready to perform the duties of the office. Mr. Abbott, it was stated, was not at the hall yesterday.

Mr. Abbott and his friends claim that the motion responsible for the election of Mr. Hogan, did not mention Mr. Abbott's name, and that Mr. Hogan might have been elected to succeed either one of the other two assessors, Mr. Elazon or Mr. O'Sullivan.

The motion as taken by the reporters did not include the name of Mr. Abbott, and Mr. Cummings, the maker of the motion, says he did not mention Mr. Abbott's name for he believed it was well understood that the election would be for the successor of Mr. Abbott. Mr. Brown, who seconded the motion, says Mr. Abbott's name was not mentioned, but he supposed, too, it would be well understood that the man to be elected would succeed Mr. Abbott. The contention is that under the new charter an official holds office until his successor is appointed or elected and the question is raised as to the assessor Mr. Hogan was elected to succeed. It was stated this afternoon that the city solicitor would be asked for an opinion in the matter.

THE DEFENDANT WON FOR WISCONSIN TODAY

Verdicts Reported in the Superior Court Today

The jury in the cases of Edmund K. Cheney vs. Curtis McEwan and that of Edmund J. Cheney, his father, versus the state, that were called in the civil session of the superior court yesterday, returned verdicts for the defendant in each case this morning. The jury came in at 10 o'clock. The cases were brought as a result of an alleged automobile accident, in which young Cheney was injured.

The case of Adeline R. Livestock, executrix, vs. William E. Livingston, was then called. The case is an action of contract and the ad damnum is $10,000. The plaintiff claims that she is the executrix of the will of Hannah Elizabeth Livingston, deceased testate and she alleges that the defendant made a promissory note for the sum of $10,000, payable to the order of the testatrix, Hannah E. Livingston, and the plaintiff is the owner and holder thereof as executrix aforesaid of the amount of the note and interest. The plaintiff says that interest has been paid to Oct. 2, 1901.

The case is one of great interest inasmuch as several of those implicated are now dead. There are a number of witnesses in the case and the morning session was taken up by the examination of several of the witnesses. Trill & Wier are the attorneys for the defendant and William E. Bent for the plaintiff.

NONPAREIL CLUB HAD ENJOYABLE TIME AT THE WAMESIT CAMP

The members of the Nonpareil club, an organization composed of young men of wards 4 and 5, enjoyed an outing at the Wamesit camp on the banks of the Concord river Sunday. Dinner was served at noon. After enjoying a very sumptuous meal a grand program was carried out. Songs were given by John Devine, Maurice Quirk, Alexander Curry, William Burke and John Higgins. Piano selections were given by James Scannell and Joseph Mullin. Patrick Callahan was the humorist of the occasion and his work was a great feature of the day. After enjoying supper the members repaired to their homes well pleased with the hospitality accorded them. The members of the club are: President, George Sharkey, Michael and James Craig, John Devine, Maurice Quirk, Joseph McLaughlin, Joseph Mullin, Alex Curry, Hugh Scannell, James Coyne, Edward McGurn, William Bradley, Robert Hartley, Robert Maguire, Frank O'Brien, Harry Costello and James Scannell.

RODNEY G. F. MOORE WAS INJURED IN AN AUTO. BILE ACCIDENT TODAY

Mr. Martin Mack, the pioneer lunch wagon man of Lowell, was hurt in an automobile accident on the boulevard near the pumping station this morning. The cause of the accident is said to be due to the displacement of a tire which caused the automobile to turn turtle. Mr. Mack was bruised about the legs and arms but it is not believed that he sustained internal injuries. He is at his home in Lenton court.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'VILLE

The easiest way to preserve and restore youthful complexion is to lightly massage the face, neck and arms with a solution made by dissolving an ounce of the milady's toilet powder in enough water to make a quart. No powder is necessary for mayonaise prevents that "silly" look and keeps the skin soft, satiny and altogether lovely.

The hair can be kept light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous, by dry shampooing. Mix four ounces of powdered hair rest with an ounce of perfume. Shake well and apply to the hair. It is easy to use, quick to act, and leaves the hair in any part of the body—headache, backache or sore muscles.

THE KING OF DENMARK DIED VERY SUDDENLY

HAMBURG, Germany, May 13.—King Frederick VIII of Denmark died alone, unrecognized and unattended in the ward of a public hospital here late last night of apoplexy.

The king, traveling incognito, arrived here Monday on his return from a long trip to the south, where he had been convalescing from a serious attack of inflammation of the lungs. With the queen and the royal suite he took quarters at the Hamburger Hof hotel.

At ten o'clock last night the king left the hotel unaccompanied for his usual stroll before retiring. He had gone only a short distance when he was overcome on the street by a sudden attack of apoplexy.

He fell unconscious to the pavement and not being recognized as a person of great prominence, was rushed to the nearest hospital in an automobile. He died there a few minutes later, still unrecognized.

When members of the king's suite became alarmed over his failure to return to the hotel after a reasonable time they called in the proprietor and searched for him. The searchers found his majesty dead at the hospital and brought his body back to the hotel with them.

BUILDING TORN DOWN BY POLISH PEOPLE

People may talk about contractors, carpenters and other working crafts, but when it comes to tearing down a building, leave that to the members of the Polish community. This was demonstrated in good style last night when the building recently condemned by the inspector of buildings, at 27 Howe street, and owned by the heirs of Louis T. Montferrand, was torn down and the debris taken away in less than four hours. The feat was witnessed by several hundred people whose attention was attracted by the noise of the work and also by the men, women and children carrying away large pieces of timber.

The work was started about 8 o'clock and at 9 the building had disappeared, and had been carried off for removal. That feat actually took the work of the Howes Construction Company on the old Sun building.

ASCENSION DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES TOMORROW

Tomorrow, the 40th day after Easter, is the festival of Ascension day in the church calendar, and as such is a holy day of obligation in the Catholic church, where the services are similar to those prescribed for Sundays throughout the year.

This holy day has considerable significance for Catholics throughout the world, and especially to the ordained clergy, for it is the anniversary of the day when Christ commissioned his apostles to go forth and preach the gospel to every creature.

KEITH'S LE PALACE D'ART

A stage on a stage is the particular scheme followed out at Le Palace d'Art, formerly Keith's theatre, and it is decidedly new in this city. The golden procession which is used, the orchestra palm-embowered beneath it, and the general settings used enhance the presentation of the delightful opera of "Faust," which four splendid soloists sing in Italian form. The singers are: Miss Van Brocklin, soprano, who has had a number of seasons alternate to Louise LeBaron, who was heard here a number of years ago. Miss Van Brocklin has a contralto voice of great quality, and of a delightful rich quality. In the opera it does along in delightful measures. Miss

WILL AGAIN SOON ATTACK TREES.

You can protect your trees in the most effective and economical way if you band them with TREE TANGLEFOOT, an absolutely harmless, sticky substance applied directly to tree trunks. Easily put on with a wooden paddle. See cut. One application remains effective three months or longer. Fully exposed to weather (rain or shine). One pound makes about nine lineal feet of band. Especially recommended for above mentioned insects, although equally effective against any climbing pest. No mixing required. TREE TANGLEFOOT comes prepared for use. Don't wait until insects are seen; band trees early and get best results. 1 lb. cans 30c, 3 lb. cans 55c, 10 lb. cans $2.65, 20 lb. cans $4.80.

ELECTIONS BY POPULAR VOTE

The demand of the hour is for direct voting on the selection of every public official of importance for city, state and nation. This is getting away from the provisions of the constitution which gives the choice of United States senators to the state legislatures and of president to the presidential electors chosen every fourth year by the states. This quadrennial election is known as the presidential election whereas in reality no citizen of the United States at that election votes directly for president. The presidential electors choose the president, and although these are pledged to carry out the wishes of their respective states they stand as delegates to a nominating convention. The electors, not the voters at large, choose the president under the instructions given and in accordance with the constitution.

It does not always follow by this method that the candidate favored by the largest number of voters will be president. The electoral system has on more than one occasion defeated the will of the people, notably in 1824 when General Jackson received 50,551 more votes than John Quincy Adams who was elected. Again in 1876 Mr. Tilden received 250,935 votes more than Mr. Hayes who became president. In 1888 Grover Cleveland received 98,017 more votes than Harrison, the successful candidate. In 1896 if Mr. Bryan had received 39,600 more votes in certain close states he would have been elected, despite the fact that Mr. McKinley had a plurality of 600,000 of the popular vote.

Thus it is clear that the electoral system of choosing a president may defeat the will of the people. In a similar manner the United States senators may not represent the will of the people. It is a fact that in many cases they certainly do not. It is alleged that legislatures are bribed to elect certain men to the senate, thus by another and even more dangerous method defeating the will of the people. These are the chief reasons for demanding the direct election of senators and the direct preferential primary for president. If, however, the constitution be amended to provide for the popular election of United States senators, it should also be amended so that the people could elect the president without the intervention of any such bungling arrangement as the electoral college. The time is coming when both these changes will be made, and it would be absurd to make one without making the other. They are equally important and equally necessary. If the people are to have the right to vote directly for United States senators they should also have the right to vote for the president of the United States instead of voting for a number of proxies to do the work for them.

The amendment for the direct election of senators has been agitated for a considerable time with varying success. Congress has adopted the proposition, and it now goes to the states for ratification as soon as the president shall have signed the measure.

The question in congress turned finally upon the adoption of the Bristow amendment which would place the control of senatorial elections in charge of the senate as the constitution places the election of representatives in control of the house.

Although many of the states have passed upon the general question of electing senators by popular vote, they will all be required to act upon it in this new form in which it is presented. There is little doubt that the necessary three-fourths vote of the states will be forthcoming and that the amendment will be carried in due time.

TAFT WAKES UP

President Taft out in his own bailiwick in Ohio is telling the people some very plain truths and some, too, that require to be told in order to guard against what is a very serious menace to the nation; we refer to the possibility of Roosevelt's election for a third term.

"With Roosevelt it is I, I, I, all the time," says the president. That's a fact. Mr. President; the Colonel has certainly a great weakness for the personal pronoun "I." But here are a few more facts that should receive serious consideration from every voter:

"Suppose you feel that egotism and vanity and put him in office with a sense of power and a disregard of constitutional restrictions. It would be dangerous for this country."

"I hold that that man is a demagogue and a flatterer, who comes out and tells the people they know it all. I hate a flatterer. I like a man to tell the truth straight out and I hate to see a man try to honeyfog the people by telling them something he doesn't believe."

"Do you think," he asked, "that Abraham Lincoln, to whom Mr. Roosevelt so often refers and to whom he likes to compare himself and to whom he bears less resemblance than anyone I know in the history of this country, would have acted as he has and misrepresented me as he has?"

Now after reading this statement from President Taft we reach one of two conclusions in reference thereto—either the president has hesitated to speak his mind of Roosevelt in the past or else the real character of the man has just dawned upon him. The president has certainly had sufficient provocation to plain talk since Roosevelt has been charging him with alliance with the corrupt bosses and combines throughout the country without at any point coming down to anything specific. He cannot meet President Taft in an argument, and that is why he evades every specific issue and deals in vague generalities. Mr. Taft has already shown the absurdity of Roosevelt's pet hobbies for the recall of judges and judicial decisions, and there is nothing left of his campaign material except what President Taft has included in his Ohio speech just quoted and another passage in which he rightly accuses Roosevelt of representing to the country that his election will bring the United States to the verge of the millennium. Far more probably it would bring it to the verge of revolution.

THE SERVICE PENSION LAW

The new service pension law provides a pension based upon age and length of service thus: Pensioners 66 to 70 years for two and a half years' service, $18 a month; three years or more, $19 a month; 70 to 75 years from $21 to $25 a month; over 75 years from $27 to $30. The total addition to the pension expenditure is estimated at from $22,000,000 to $25,000,000 for the next few years after which the diminishing number of the veterans will cause a reduction. The service pension has long been sought by the veterans, and by thousands who did not live to see it enacted.

Seen and Heard

"A large sum of money" is a term of variable meaning. Some people might use it speaking of two dollars and fifty-eight cents.

People who have the idea that a philosopher is a man who keeps calm and cool and always takes things as they come never saw two philosophers arguing together.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Nobody cares, or at least not too, to know what the fashion next year will be.

Whether wide hoopskirt or a hobble dress; I don't care 'bout it enough to guess whether rusty silk of an old design or the latest fabric, an all ashine. With ornaments of glass or jade—Be it little mother, or winsome maid, Or the old grandma with the silver curls.

From the grandma's back, to the youngest girl's With the tousled locks an' the dancin' feet I know I will look at an' call them sweet.

Be it little mothers with toll-worn heads, Or happy lassies with ribbon bands On rebellious curls, it's the same to me.

Whatever the style of garments be They all look sweet an' they all look nice.

An' all are ready for sacrifice For the ones they love; they are great of soul!

Go, mark the feller that wins the goal, An' stands out tall in the blazing light That plays on them that have won the height.

An' back in the shadow, with love doth wait The little mother that made him great.

The mother and wives, and the little girls With their squeals o' glee an' their truant curls.

It's them that helps whilst a man grows great, That keeps him honest an' clean an' straight.

It's them that binds to his soul the wings That lifts him upward to better things.

It's them that cheers, an' that toils, and grieves If he turns aside, an' it's them be-lieves In him whatever the world may say.

That wags him back to the upward way, That steadies him when he starts to fall— Wives, mothers an' babes—God bless them all!

—Judd Mortimer Lewis.

The active man, burdened with the cares of business, seldom realizes how bored he would be if he were a woman and could sit in a rocking chair at home by the front window all the afternoon.

Even if the old maid isn't interested at all in farming, the word "husbandry" has an attractive sound to her.

It pleases almost any girl to have a man at her feet, even if it is only a bootblack.

Nobody has any right to poke fun at others, unless he never was ridiculous himself.

A man should always speak well of his wife, even if everybody knows that she deserves it.

Some day, perhaps, the living picture people who are now showing us how Columbus discovered America may produce a film showing how Noah lined up the animals, two by two, and loaded up the ark.

You can't sidetrack the moth by leaving a roll of pieces of cloth in the drawer with your dress suit. She will eat holes in the dress suit just the same.

Good Old Doc Wiley says nothing shrieks quite so fast as ham. It's a good bet that Doc doesn't play "rummy."

Nothing better in rousical comedy has been seen locally in seasons than this week's offering of the Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre. "Songs and Dances of Ireland," it is called, and it contains some of the brightest and best of Irish melodies.

Good bits of humor, in combination with music and dancing make the affair truly enjoyable and at the same time tends to increase the general popularity which this company enjoys among the patrons of this theatre. Miss Grace Hawthorne, the leading soloist, is heard in two excellent numbers, "Kil-larny" and "Come Back to Erin," and Jack Alliman, a new member of the company and others are also delightful in their solo numbers. The dances are also among the more charming features in connection with the act.

"The Star Boarder," a farce comedy presented by Blanche Holt & Co. is a case second in general favor with the patrons. The piece, is unusually humorous and the lines are handled especially well by Mrs. Holt and her supporting cast. It's one continuous laugh from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Lightning Weston, gives a wonderful exhibition of his work with a crayon, and Leslie Thurston is one of the cleverest and most proficient xylophone soloists on the stage. Emma Cameron, the week's soloist, is heard in new and novel song numbers.

Special mention is made of the photo-plays for the week. Those for the first three days are exceptionally good, and besides are shown for the first time in this city. These scheduled for the last three days of the week are equally good and are all new to Lowell lovers of picture shows. The temperature of the theatre at all times is cool and comfortable.

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently relieved in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

Success doesn't always bring happiness, and it is also true that happiness doesn't always bring success.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

TRUE ORATOR

"Did you hear Harper's speech last night?"
"Yes; isn't he a wonderfully eloquent and convincing speaker?"
"You bet. I understand that his wife is influenced by what he says when talking to his sleep."

MAUDIE SURE IS

Arthur—Are they classy people, Evelyn—My, yes. Maud goes out with a young man who wears an aviator costume.

NOT A POLYGAMIST

"Sir, I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter in marriage."
"Which one—Grace or Ethel?"
"Grace, sir."
"Do you make enough to support two?"
"But, sir, I only wish one."

THE PREVAILING FADS

"Life is not all beer and skittles."
"No; a good part of it is devoted to steepen tea and bridge."

MALICIOUS INSINUATION

Eve—Do you remember the time when we used to attend dancing school together?
He—Quite well. Why, that wasn't more than 40 years ago.

NO DAMAGE DONE

Harold—Fred had a narrow escape when his roadster hit a tree last night.
Evelyn—Yes; and wasn't it luck that he landed on his head?
